Foreword

Crawford's aims are greatly influenced by the aspirations of the City of San Diego. The city and our school have many things in common. To each individual they represent many different facets; a place of belonging, fun, learning, social activities, government, history, sports, clubs, recreation and people.

The divisions of our yearbook were originally set up to show the interlocking segments of our school life. As one examines the divisions of the book, he can easily see how these categories also apply to the City of San Diego. This is why we have chosen for our 1965 CENTAUR theme: "City Within A City."

The Crawford Administration, much like the coordinators and leaders of the city, has helped plan, has given advice, and has organized the functions of the school with great efficiency.

Students who have devoted much time and effort to the betterment of our school and community are here given credit for their work in the Associated Student Body section.

Crawford students have gone about their daily activities in much the same way as the people in the city.

A well run school and a well run city, both must depend largely on their active Organizations for support.

Crawford's extra curricular activities have provided relaxation and entertainment. San Diego's cultural and fun-filled activities appeal to its people.

Crawford proudly displays many banners and trophies that its students have earned. Sports and athletic ability are stressed throughout the city.

Seniors graduating in June from Crawford have striven to develop themselves into responsible and active citizens who will take their places in society this year. Thus, with its accomplishments in many fields of citizenship, Will C. Crawford High School is indeed a complete "City Within A City."

Dedication

Because of her own friendly disposition, Mrs. Irene Johnston keeps the atmosphere of room 508 genial in the midst of bustling activity. Mrs. Johnston, a part of the San Diego City Schools since 1952, has served Crawford High School as financial secretary for four years. Before coming to Crawford, she was a secretary at Horace Mann Junior High. Here at Crawford, Mrs. Johnston has won the admiration of all those who know her and have the privilege of working with her.

The smooth running of Crawford's bookkeeping is a credit to Mrs. Johnston. Besides the regular duties that her job involves, she contributes many hours to helping Crawford organizations and individual students with their problems. We of the CENTAUR staff are especially grateful to Mrs. Johnston for the time and effort she has so willingly given us these years.

We gladly dedicate Crawford High School's 1965 CENTAUR to a wonderful and gracious person - - - - Mrs. Irene Johnston.

At the center of Crawford life stood the administrators and faculty members. Like the cabinet of a small city, they planned, gave advice, and organized the complicated operation of Will C. Crawford High School. Much credit is due them for all of the wise guidance and assistance that was so readily offered to one and all. Education was offered and the wise student reached out a hand to the future.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

EDITOR: Barbara Harritt

Our Principal

Another successful and completed school year is ours because of Mr. George Parry, resourceful and energetic principal of Will C. Crawford High School. Hailed as the most school-spirited person around, he is Crawford's most popular and well-known enthusiast. Although he is always busy with important duties that readily fall upon the principal of one of San Diego's largest high schools, he is never too busy to fill out a college form for an aspiring Senior or talk to any Crawfordite when his opinion is needed. If he were given a chance to speak personally to each and every graduating Senior, he might remind the graduates to practice the famous and respected Crawford spirit in all future pursuits.

Mr. Parry is a graduate of San Diego State College and holds a Master's degree in administration from the same institution.

The future of the class of 1965 and of all eager students to come will be guided and encouraged by able administrators. The fact that Crawford High has been endowed with one of the very best principals in the city is something to be proud of. Crawfordites are unanimous in their opinion of Mr. Parry as respected leader of campus affairs. His friendly wisdom and personality have been the traits for which he will be remembered.

A very special thank-you should be offered to Mr. Parry for helping us to make the school year of 1964-1965 a profitable one.

Administration

Mr. Clapper

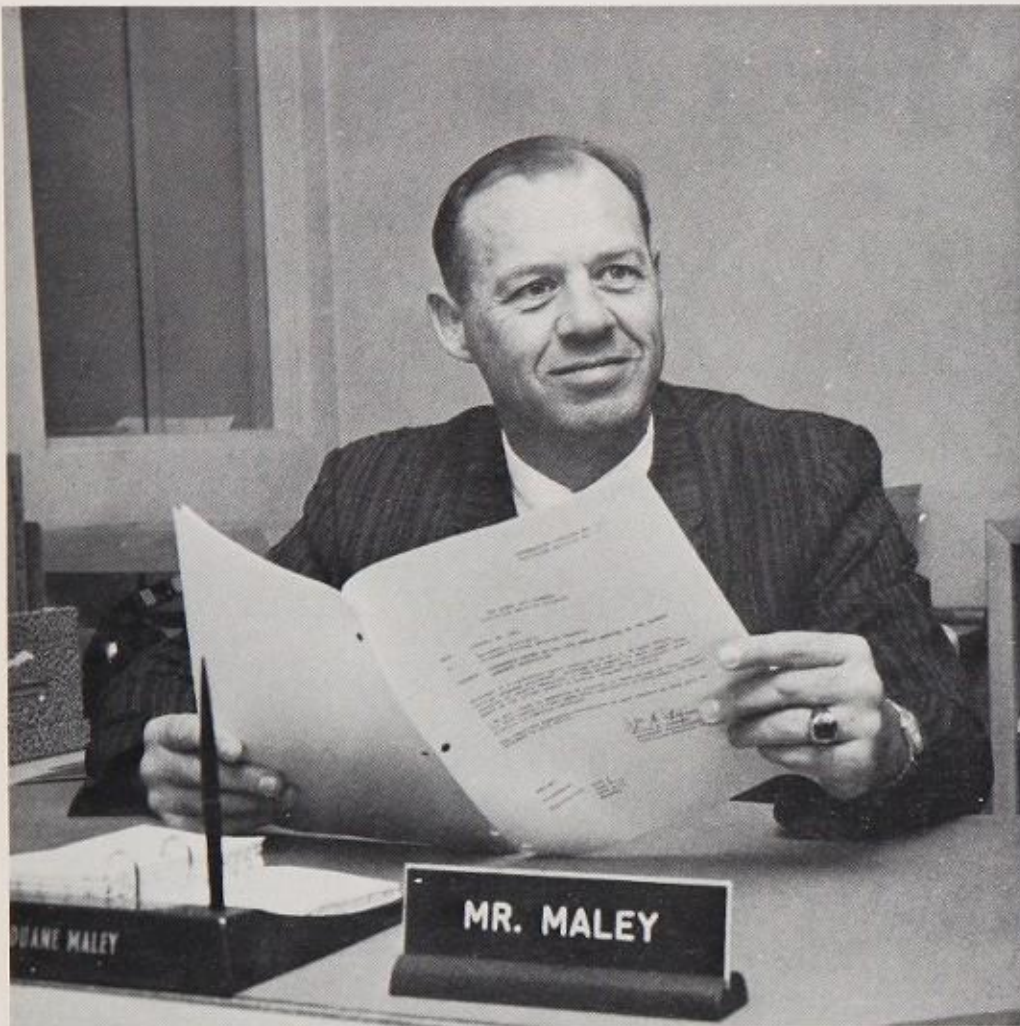

Mr. Clapper was the indispensable organizer of Crawford's active year. He was known to most Crawfordites by his ready smile and able assistance when advice or guidance was needed. Mr. Clapper was the person to come to for any administrative "okay." The little extra things such as guiding a new student through the intricacies of a new schedule, advising a particularly promising young physicist on the possibilities of his future, or just being around when an A.S.B. Council member needed his valued opinion, were the things that we will all remember our Vice principal for.

Mrs. Agnew

Our girls' dean, Mrs. Agnew, helped Crawford students to the end of a very successful year. She had the dual job of providing guidance for Crawford girls and taking care of other administrative duties, such as giving her approval or opinion on Senior Class and Girls' League affairs. Mrs. Agnew was an integral part of selecting candidates for the Americans Abroad program of the American Field Service. Always a knowing and helpful advisor to any Crawfordite who needed her, Mrs. Agnew's several roles in Crawford life have made her important decisions felt by all concerned.

Administration

Mr. Maley

Replacing Mr. Volz this year as Boys' Dean was Mr. Maley. He helped Crawford along competent lines. Giving a firm hand to Crawford boys, Mr. Maley was a valuable assistant to all tasks requiring tact and special consideration. His duties, however, were not limited to those requiring discipline. He helped to coordinate many Crawford functions, giving of his time and effort to ensure success. The quiet, firm manner he employs will always be an asset to all Crawford affairs in the future. Dedicated administrators like Mr. Maley have contributed to the completion of another successful school year.

Office Action

The center of activity for Crawford High is our school office, always busy.

Colt receives helpful advice.

Without the friendly wisdom and advice of the grade counselors, the sometimes incomprehensible rules for successful high school and college planning would be left to the student to try and tackle alone. The counselors and their tireless efforts for Crawford students will be remembered with appreciation for many years to come. Testing schedules and applications, college interviews and choice, schedule problems, and similar duties were tackled by advisors. Much personal interest is taken in the individual student by each and every counselor, much to the betterment of many a future of Will C. Crawford High School students this year.

MRS. WILTSE
Librarian

Library work, Health, Driver Training and Junior Employment are services provided continually for Crawford students almost every day of the week. Every service performed was most essential to a healthy, knowledgeable, and responsible student body. Our library, for example, was always a place where the student could pursue independent research and study. Under the careful direction of trained instructors, many a Crawfordite learned the "rules of the road." The nurse provided constant service for those students who needed medical aid or became ill at school. Crawford students enjoyed the help provided for finding profitable employment.

Secretaries

Conducting the complicated paperwork that a school as large as Crawford can acquire was the monumental task of the office staff. With cheerful smiles, the secretaries offered able assistance to all Crawford students and faculty members.

Cafeterians

Good, nourishing, and delicious lunches after a busy morning of classes greets many a Crawfordite at the school cafeteria. Under the able direction of Mrs. Joseph, the cafeteria personnel continued to prepare adequate lunches.

Custodians

Keeping the beautiful Crawford grounds in top condition was the job of our able custodians. Under the direction of Mr. Blackburn, the custodians were ready to assist in any way with the many Crawford campus activities.

The Business Education Department was designed and devoted to teaching Crawford students to be the business leaders of tomorrow. This department was expanded to include four team-teaching classes in beginning typing, with four student assistants to aid with this project. As usual, shorthand, notehand, and business classes were busy and well-attended by Crawford students. Courses in all business procedures were offered on a wide level. Many days and weeks were spent in teaching the most efficient and up-to-date procedures.

Preparation for future occupations includes typing, retyping and typing again.

"Is she kidding us, or is that really the way Shakespeare wrote it? ? ? ?"

Keeping Crawford students aware of the intricacies of their native language and the nature of some of the great works was but a part of the job of the English Department. With Miss Eaton as Department Chairman this year, the English Department kept up Crawford's high academic standards in the respective fields of Speech and Language Arts. A creditable working knowledge of English will aid many Colts in the future.

"Amo, amas, amat, amamas, amais, amant. I love, you love, he or she loves. . . ."

Successful and ever-growing, the Foreign Language Department boasts the largest number of full-time language teachers in the San Diego City Schools. Many new methods concerning audio-lingual techniques were being experimented within all classes. With new and practical emphasis on listening and speaking, the practical application of the knowledge acquired will become an indispensable aid to future travel or business abroad. With the increased significance of foreign affairs, a working and speaking knowledge of another language will be beneficial to many a Crawford student in the future. Crawford is indeed fortunate to have this progressive program use.

"To start we draw a straight (?) line."

In today's ever advancing atomic age, Mathematics plays an enormous role. Everyone should have some basic knowledge of number concepts; this was the responsibility of the Mathematics staff. This department explored every aspect of Mathematics from ancient history up to the present day, giving Crawford students the background knowledge needed for future study or for a general understanding.

Under the able instruction of the members of the department, students received the best possible training in this field.

The all-around fitness of Crawford students while participating in various activities was the primary goal of the Boys' and Girls' Physical Education Department. All coaches were interested in building each student physically and mentally. The importance of the physically fit man or woman cannot be overemphasized.

Such sports as football, baseball, tennis, handball, and physical fitness helped to round out the boys' program this year. Hockey, basketball, folk dancing, tennis, golf, archery, and similar activities comprised the girls' physical education schedule.

Industrial Arts classes gave students an enlightening look at the new advances in technical fields, as well as basic training in practical skills and processes. The electronics section offered a new class called "electronics occupation." Upon completion of the course, the student may find employment in industrial work.

Creating informed and efficient homemakers was the goal of the Home Economics Department. Courses such as family relations, nutrition, child care, and clothing were provided to insure a successful family life for Crawford girls.

There simply isn't enough room to give full credit to all the members of the faculty and administration for their tireless and dedicated efforts this year. Their days have been busy ones, full of lecturing, correcting, instructing, organizing, guiding, and attending many meetings. The teachers below are attending a faculty meeting at the end of a weary day, planning ahead for the summer school session that looms so near in the future.

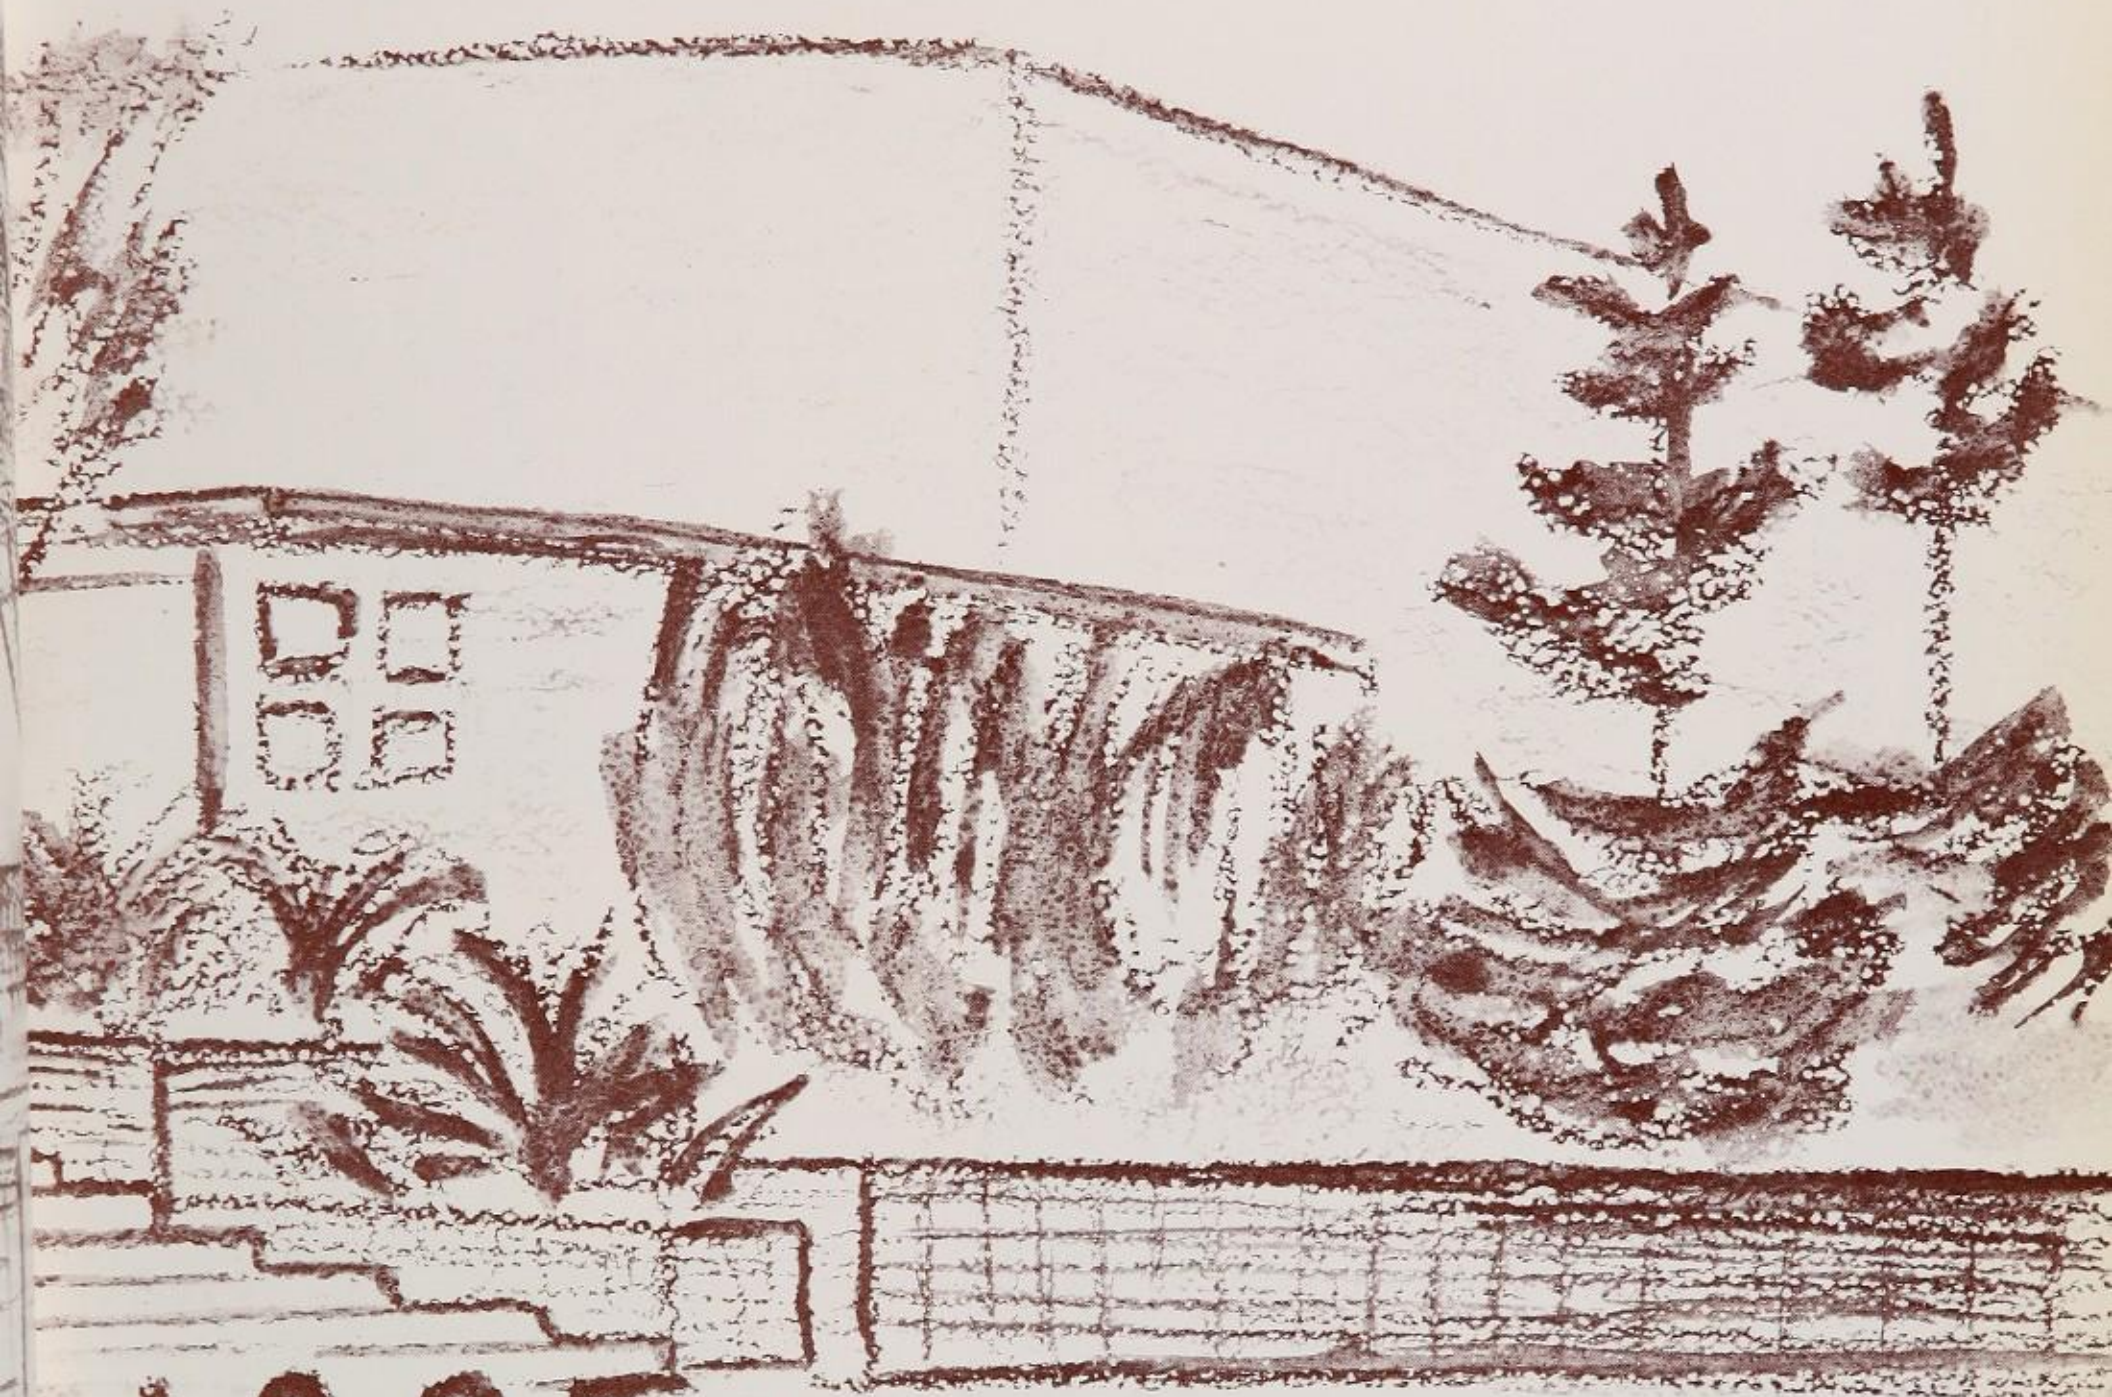

Enthusiasm was the key to this year's academic success. Both the student body and staff displayed the kind of "get up and go" that makes education a valuable experience for all concerned. The learning process can be a dull and tedious affair without the use of new techniques that have been such an important part of Crawford life. Our language labs, science equipment, and athletic facilities add to the all-over excellence of instruction. Both faculty and student body must be commended for a job well done.

The faculty attend a faculty meeting at the end of another busy day.

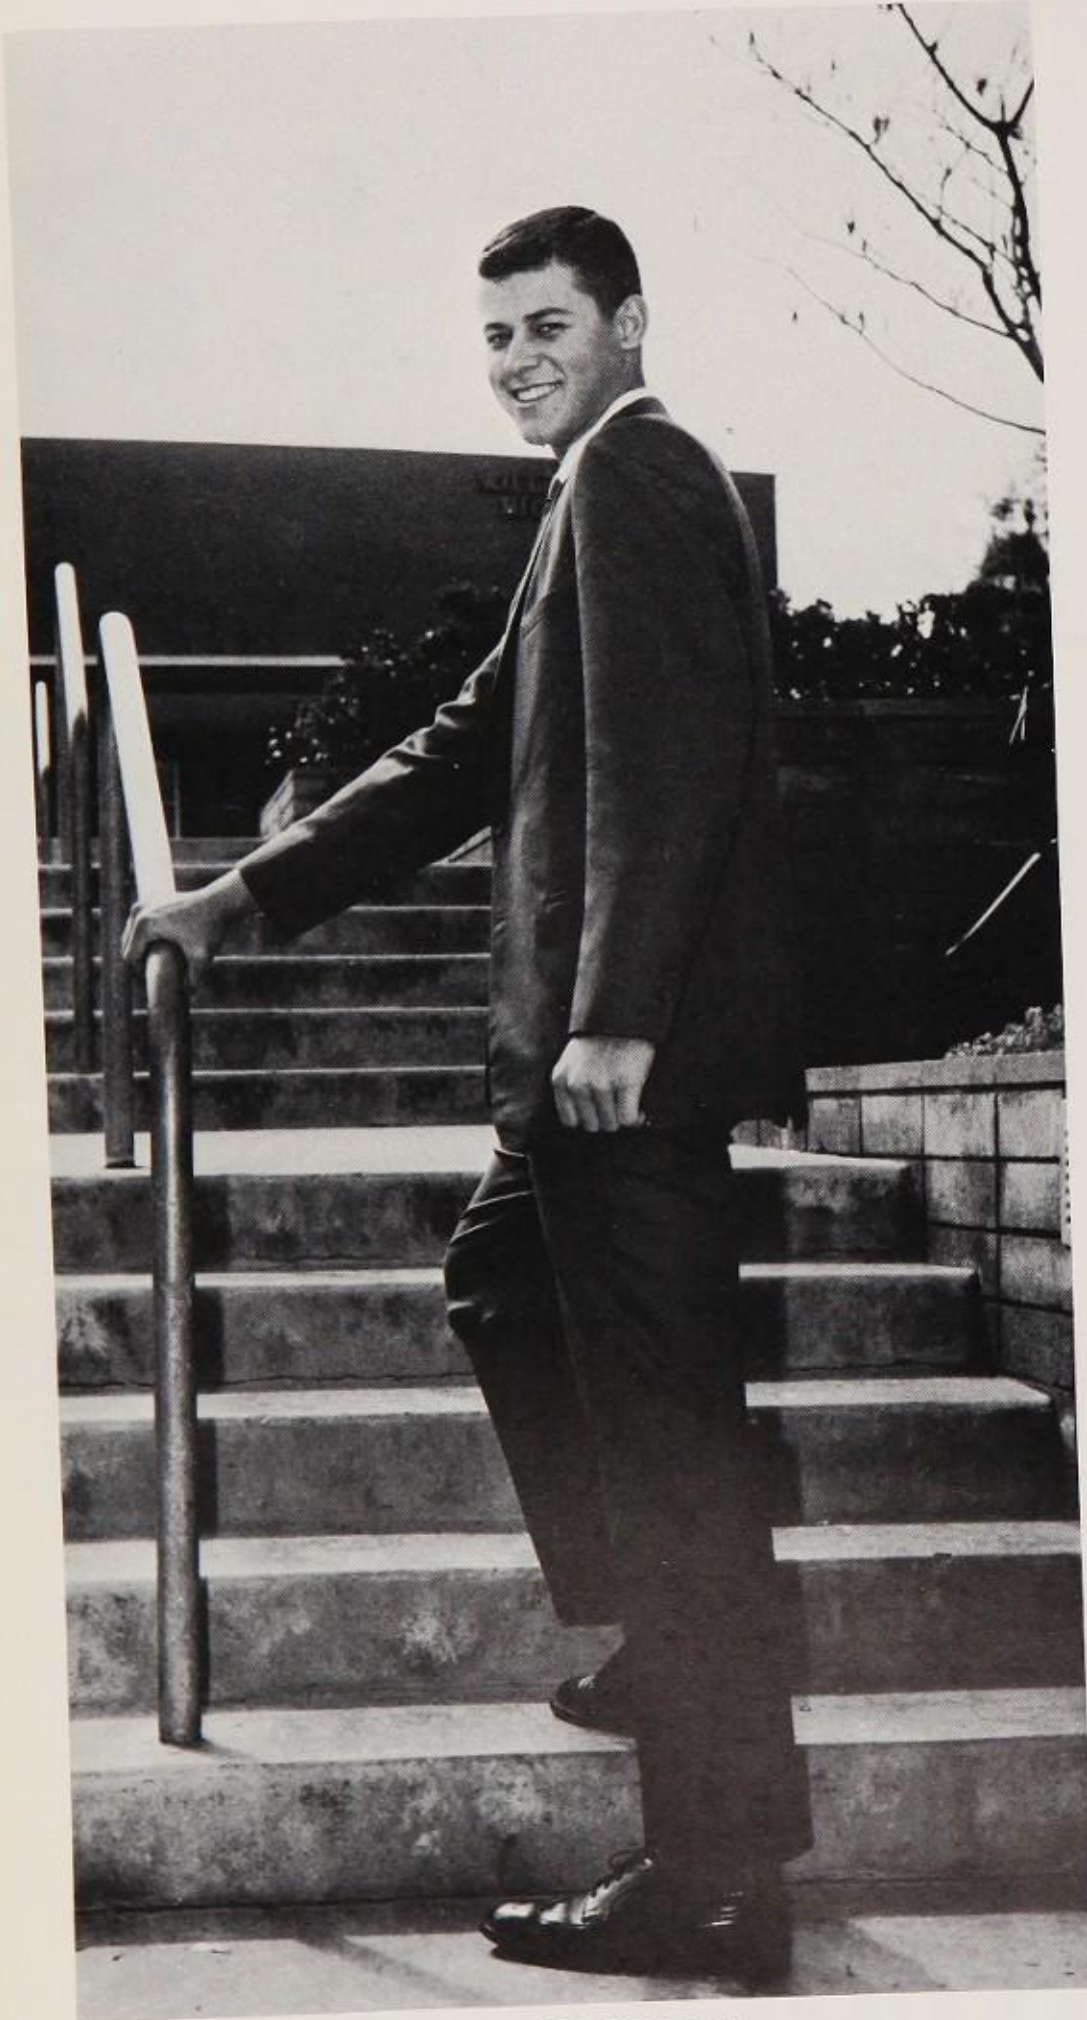

Incorporated in the Associated Student Body section are those groups, clubs, and organizations which rendered service to the school and community. they had in common their goal of service, ranging from student government activities to community-wide service projects. Whether in the student council or A.S.B. committees, in a service club, or school service, the students in this section deserve recognition for the time and effort they devoted to their school.

Service to the administration, the student body, and to the community — this was the common interest which linked all of these groups into this one Associated Student Body Section. The service performed by these groups varied according to their purpose. The administration, for example, was assisted by the typing service and well over one hundred monitors; the student body received help with school decorations and assemblies through the art service and stage crew; the Pacer staff kept the students up to date on campus activities; and the Centaur staff worked the entire school year to make an annual filled with the year's many memory-making events. The community benefited through the service projects of H.S.S., Key Club, Y-Teens, Girls' League, and Boys' Federation. Student government also constituted a major portion of this Associated Student Body Section. School service of this type was seen at the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior class levels, as well as through the commissioners and appointed officers.

This year's A.S.B. Council, under the leadership of President Bob Boone and Advisor Mr. Young, was responsible for many successful rallies and assemblies, the A.S.B. Ball, "Camelot," Pep Week, and many other memorable events. The commissioners and appointed officers deserve a great deal of thanks for their service to the student body of Crawford High School.

The organizations and people in this section played an important role in making school activities more enjoyable, interesting, and efficient. They also deserve recognition for their many services.

Among the most important groups on campus was the A.S.B. Senate. Crawford's largest representative body, the Senate, provided a means of communication between the students, the A.S.B. officers, and the faculty. Consisting of senators elected from English or Social Studies classes, it was responsible for considering and recommending ideas for possible school improvements.

Bob Phillips, the presiding officer, helped the senators in weighing the worth of ideas in question, and in coming to the necessary conclusions and practical solutions. The 1964-65 Associated Student Body Senate gave more Colts a voice in their own government, thus furthering the democratic tradition of campus self-government. It has become an essential part of our school.

Girls' League

This year, the Girls' League Cabinet met alternate Tuesdays to discuss preliminary plans to be presented to the Council and to exchange ideas and co-ordinate details for upcoming activities. Under the able direction of President Diana Lee, many new ideas were incorporated into the many projects already sponsored by Girls' League. Chief among these were a Girls' League Week, a Big Sister Program, having a good-grooming chairman, and having cabinet uniforms to be worn on days of meetings. Aided by advisors Mrs. Remington and Mrs. Delay, the officers and chairmen planned many memorable events.

First Semester

Getting as many co-eds as possible to participate in its many activities has always been the goal of the Girls' League. This goal is realized through the elected representatives of the council, who communicate the dates, plans, and details of all Girls' League projects and activities to the girls in their gym classes. The Girls' League Council of the first semester worked enthusiastically and successfully with officers and cabinet on many service and social projects.

Second Semester

New Girls' League representatives were elected for the second semester in order to give more co-eds a chance to participate in school activities. Enthusiastic and willing to work, the new council members took part in many worthwhile service projects and helped work on and support such activities as April A La Mode and the Mother-Daughter Tea. Reporting back to their gym classes, the representatives provided a vital link in bringing Crawford's 1,500 co-eds closer together with common interests.

Boys' Federation

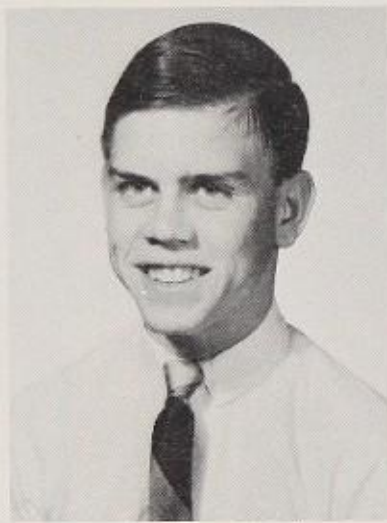

The belief that every boy at Crawford should be represented in the Associated Student Body Activities is the reason for the establishment and maintenance of the Boys' Federation.

With Terry O'Rourke, Commissioner of Boys' Activities, as the organization's president, the Boys' Federation sponsored various school activities and projects. The button sale, a very successful and new idea this year, Autumn Round-up, a movie, and a car check were a few of these activities.

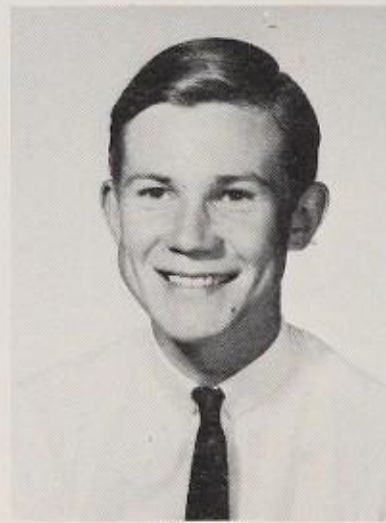

Each representative to the federation was elected by his physical education class. Using this method, effective communication between Crawford's boys, the A.S.B. Council, and the administration was again maintained.

Inter-Club Council

In order to maintain a balance between Crawford's many clubs and organizations, the Inter-Club Council met once a month under the guidance of Commissioner Maria Long. With each club represented, all events and activities were co-ordinated with those of other campus clubs, the A.S.B., and the administration. Many problems were solved through the exchange of new ideas and information.

Student Affairs

Led by Commissioner Maria Long, the Student Affairs Committee was in charge of a major part of the planning of this year's A.S.B. Ball, "Camelot." They also worked diligently through the entire week of Homecoming to plan and organize the many traditional events such as Donut Dunk 'Em, the Alumni Tea, and school decorations. Although these two activities, the A.S.B. Ball and Homecoming Week, were a major part of the committee's concern, they were also responsible for approving and scheduling all of the activities of Crawford's many campus clubs and organizations. Without the efficient work of this committee many of these activities would not have been possible.

Another year of well-run elections can be attributed to the leadership of Commissioner Steve Hill and his hard-working committee. They were responsible for officiating over various campus elections including song and cheerleaders, Homecoming Queen, and the Sophomore class elections. Although the planning of these elections took place throughout most of the year, the main function of this committee was to organize the A.S.B. Nominating Convention, held this year in April. It was through this spirited and thrilling convention that the Crawford delegates got a real sample of political atmosphere and parliamentary procedure.

In its third year as part of the A.S.B., the Thrift and Clean Campus Committee performed two vital school services. Under the directorship of Commissioner Peggi Blackman, the group encouraged the sale of U.S. saving stamps and bonds, and organized a clean campus campaign. Among the approaches used to enthuse students about keeping neat grounds was the election of a monthly Mr. and Miss Clean Campus. This group has become essential in organizing the sale of stamps and encouraging students to take pride in the appearance of their school and grounds.

Rallies and Assemblies

Spirit! Pep! Enthusiasm! This year's Rallies and Assemblies Committee, under the leadership of Commissioner Geri McGurn, devoted many hours to the planning and presentation of many interesting rallies and assemblies. The traditional Homecoming and Pep Week rallies will long be remembered as well as the assemblies. These featured such variety as folk singers at the Hootenany, Christmas music during the holiday season, and an introduction of the exchange students at the A.F.S. assembly. The rallies, which were held the second half of lunch, did much to promote the tremendous Crawford spirit and enthusiasm for the many school and sports events.

Committees

Publicity plays a very vital part in a school as large as Crawford. Through the outstanding leadership of Commissioner Peggy Thomas and her diligent, conscientious committee, many events throughout the school year created visible enthusiasm and interest because they were promoted to the awareness of the students. The mobile Saints, hung in every classroom during Homecoming Week, were only one example of the spirit generated through the successful efforts of this year's Publicity Committee.

Hard-working and zealous, Crawford's class of '66 has accomplished a great deal during the past two years and has much to be proud of. Under the leadership of David Dorman, the industrious Junior Class Cabinet and Council have worked hard to provide their classmen with many successful activities, events, and projects. Included among these were the Junior Class Party, "Kiddie Kapers," the Junior Ball, "Wonderland by Night," a banner sale, and several movies. Mr. Behnke, advisor, and the officers and chairmen deserve special commendation for their unselfish service to their class and school.

Honorary Service Society

Organized in 1960, the Honorary Service Society, or the Auroras, was founded to recognize the outstanding leadership, scholastic ability, and school service of thirty deserving Senior girls. The Auroras were carefully chosen on the basis of their high standards by a faculty and an administrative board to serve the school and community. This year's Auroras organized money-making projects to finance fifty-dollar scholarships for worthy Seniors. They also helped at such functions as the Alumni Tea, All-School Play, registration, and the National Merit and P.S.A.T. tests.

The tri-pointed pin, representing the Auroras, stood for progress, advancement, and forward movement. This was in keeping with their motto — "Toward success we seek to open the way."

Key Club

"Our purpose is to serve our school and community." These words of President Bill Gore succinctly describe the activities of the 1964-65 Crawford Key Club.

Under the leadership of Bill Gore, his cabinet, and Mr. Forbes Dickinson, advisor, the Crawford service club "rendered dedicated service" wherever a need presented itself.

Key Clubs throughout America are sponsored and guided by Kiwanis International, a men's service organization. Crawford's representative was Mr. Richard Clem, who offered invaluable assistance to the Key Clubbers. In such activities as a clothing drive for northern California and a Boys' Club Christmas party, the Crawford chapter of Key Club International developed a strong social consciousness so vitally needed in adulthood.

Typing Service

Using their skills in typing and performing secretarial tasks of all kinds, the girls in Typing Service devoted many hours to assisting teachers and the administration in countless ways. Meeting daily, the students performed such tasks as typing and duplicating tests, forms, and schedules for members of the faculty. Enabling teachers to devote more of their time to their students, Typing Service proved indispensable to many.

School

Under the capable assistance of Mr. Van Buskirk, the stage crew spent many hours behind the scenes to insure the smooth running of Crawford's many assemblies, movies, and drama presentations. They not only planned all of the stage settings, but also managed lighting, curtains, and moving the props. We extend our thanks to this group for their service and to Mr. Van Buskirk for his advisory guidance.

Monitors

Forming an indispensable aid to the administration, our many monitors delivered passes, aided secretaries, filed-out forms, typed, and ran errands. While performing these vital school services, the monitors also gained knowledge for future use. Their importance, work, and devotion were recognized and appreciated by all Colts.

Service

Under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Stephens, the Art Service contributed many hours of hard, rewarding work to the A.S.B. and many campus clubs and organizations. Using their artistic talent and creativity, these students made hundreds of posters and signs advertising various campus events, lettered the huge victory banners used at the games, and performed related tasks for the faculty. Their unique contributions made with pen, brush, talent, and time were greatly appreciated by both the faculty and the students. Their outstanding work earned them the thanks of all Colts.

Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief, Toni Crawford, this year's annual staff strived to produce an annual of the same high quality as last year's. Mr. Morphew, the advisor, has supervised staffs that for two consecutive years have produced first place annuals in nationwide competition.

It was the staff's responsibility to make decisions about the cover, the dedication, the color pages, and the theme. Besides these, the editors and their assistants spent many hours designing layouts, writing copy, scheduling pictures, and meeting deadlines.

The Centaur provides a remembrance of campus life, activities, and people for all Crawford students. Thousands of pictures and words were organized over more than 250 pages to produce an annual worthy of the school and its students.

Lay-outs, galleys, reporting, interviewing, proof-reading, and meeting deadlines were all a part of the work that went into the making of our campus' bi-monthly newspaper, the Pacer. Under the co-editorship of Eric Watkins and Judy Wiltze, the Pacer this year accomplished its purpose of informing Crawfordites about what's what and who's who around the campus.

The entire Pacer Staff demonstrated fine journalistic background and ability as it endeavored to present a high-quality newspaper to Crawford's 3000 students. They combined thought-provoking editorials, accurate and impartial sports coverage, and interesting and original feature articles to form a newspaper that lived up to Crawford's traditional high standards. The Pacer provided a media by which the A.S.B. and various clubs could communicate information about up-coming activities. It also gave recognition to those students who contributed time and effort to the school, and to those who won scholarships and honors. The students of Crawford High greatly appreciated their fine newspaper.

Very much like the citizens of a busy city, Crawford students went about their daily schedules. Studying, taking lecture notes, conversing with friends, planning activities, and attending to personal responsibilities were some of the activities that made up a typical school day. Someday in the future, all Crawford graduates will become active and hard-working members of some big city.

CAMPUS LIFE

EDITOR: Barbara Harritt

The Beginning of a New Day

A new day, another busy schedule of classes, friends, and chaos were the things Crawford students greeted each and every morning. In the crisp morning air, we listened to the familiar strains of the National Anthem, hurried to lockers to deposit or pick up books for the morning, greeted familiar faces, and maybe spent the minutes before the first class in the library. A new day had begun, and like any new thing, it was full of surprises and uncertainty when the bell called us to work.

At The Day's End

When the final bell signified the end of another busy day, Crawford students gathered books from lockers, exchanged last-minute farewells, attended meetings or games, and eventually headed for home. Monday through Thursday afternoons, thoughts were aimed towards the day to come, with all its responsibilities. But soon, Friday arrived and there were other things to think about; an important game, dance, a special date. Soon, for the Seniors, these three years of high school will come to an end; but the memories we have shared here won't soon be forgotten as dusk brings a final farewell to Will C. Crawford High School.

Bedlam Between Classes

Six minutes were allotted between each class to give Crawfordites a few precious moments to prepare for the next class, discuss the latest game results, or find hidden books and gym clothes. These short breaks were sometimes necessary for simply travelling the distance between 800 building and the bungalows.

In spite of much hustling, pushing, jostling, and hurrying that was done, students always seemed to get an amazing amount of ground covered and things accomplished. The short six minutes meant a great deal to Crawford students and will long remain in their memories of the three year stay at Crawford.

At a faraway distance, the halls and entrance ways look a lot less hectic.

A Moment of Relaxation

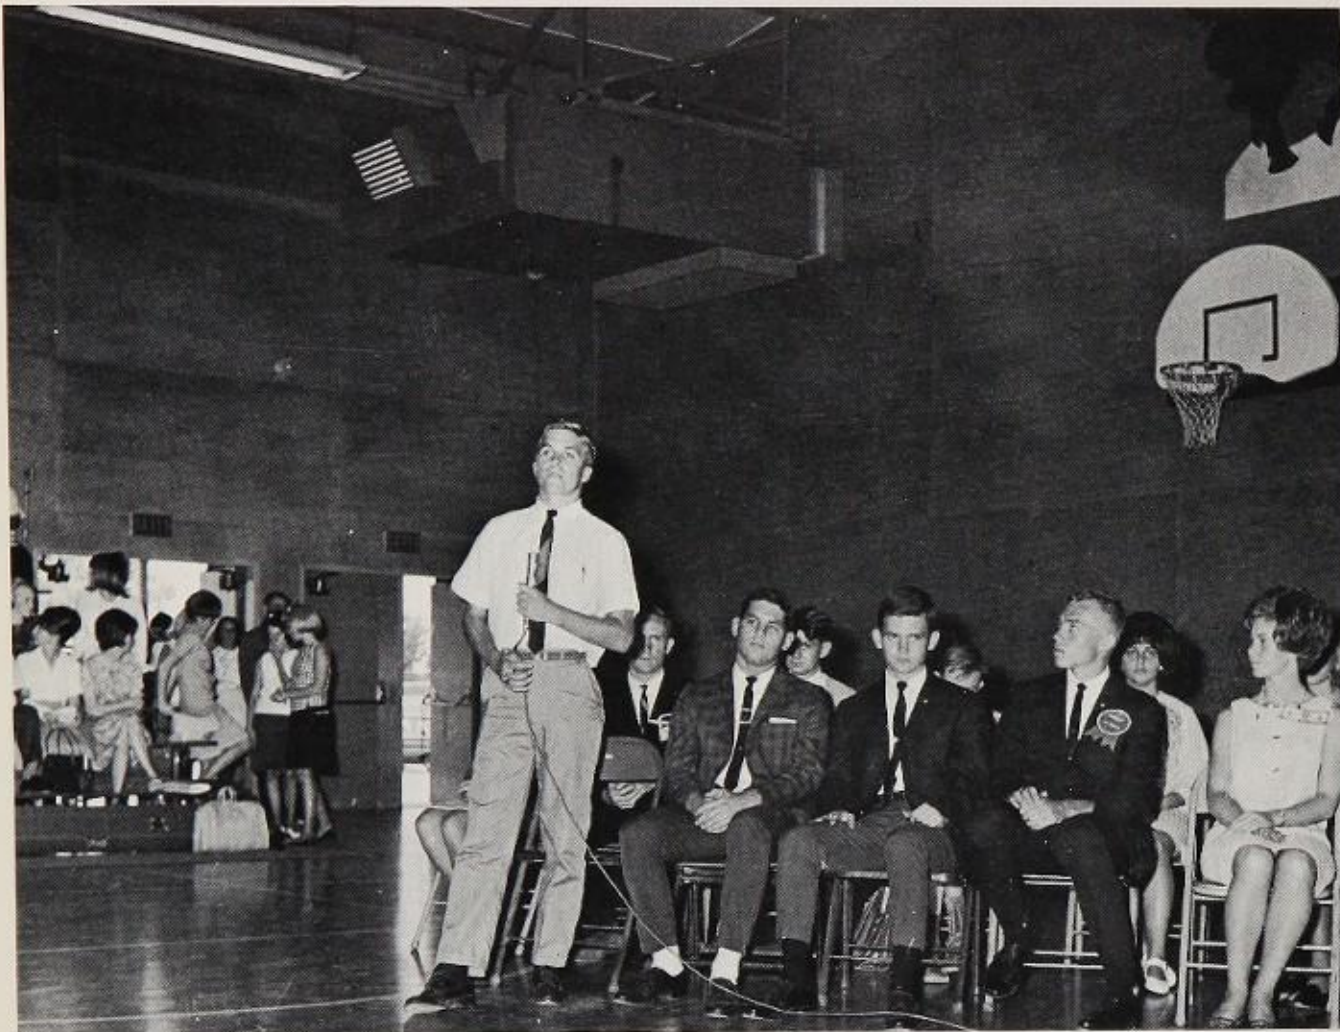

Sure seems like these milk cartons are getting smaller and smaller!

Crawfordites spend the lunch hour in the cafeteria.

Most Crawfordites agreed that lunch was the best part of the day. The lunch quad meant good food and friendly conversations. Besides eating and making friends, rallies, movies, and other activities made the hour pass quickly. Students may agree that the lunch quad itself was one of the most beautiful places on the Crawford campus. Whether eating lunch, attending various meetings, or using the cafeteria for study, lunch was appreciated by all Crawford students. Colts took great pride in keeping the lunch patio and the campus area clean and attractive.

Special Kind of Loyalty

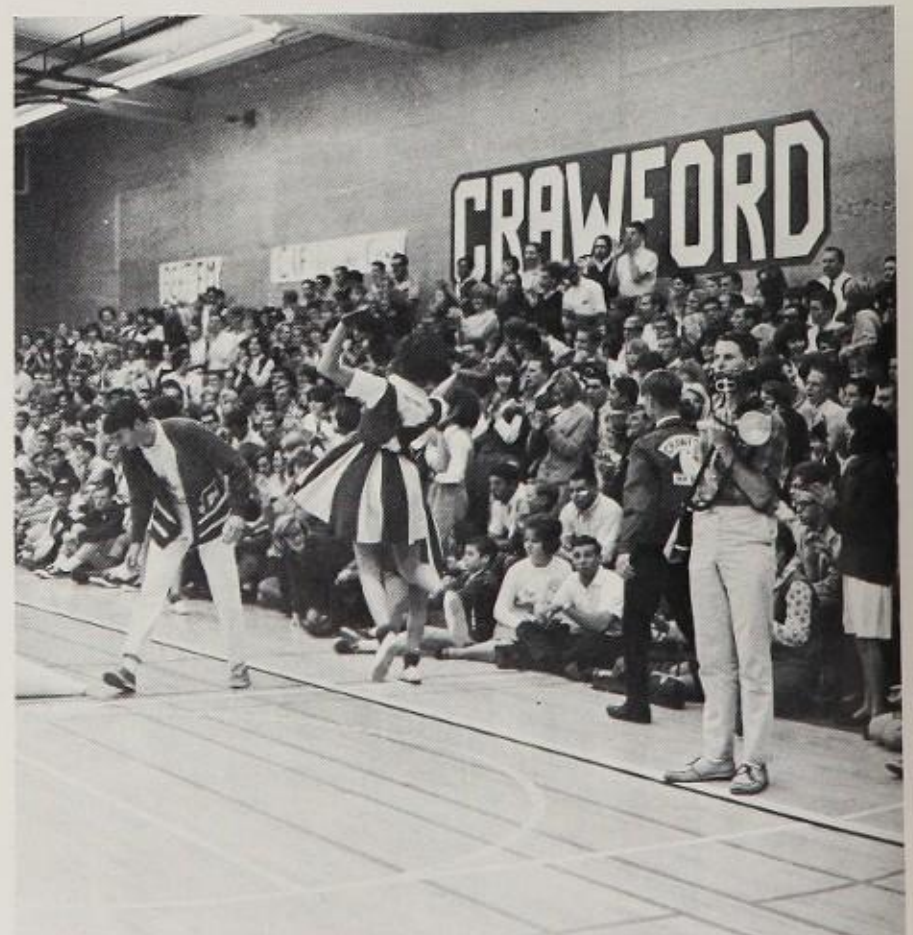

A rally in April serves to introduce prospective A.S.B. candidates to the student body.

Crawfordites display many kinds of loyalty. Whether they hold school offices, are a member of the school band or orchestra, sing in the choir, play football, baseball, basketball or tennis, or just loyally attend the games and activities, they are fulfilling a very vital part of high school life. Running for an office is the acceptance of a major responsibility. The students who take the time and trouble to support their school usually find the experience a rewarding one, not to mention time well spent. A big cheer is due all those Colts with that "special kind of loyalty."

An active bunch perform ? ? ? ? ?

"And the score goes up another notch, another notch . . ."

On To Victory

Norman and the colt confer about the upcoming victory . . .

Yes, spirit is a very important part of campus life. Many hours were spent this year by many people to boost spirit and keep the pep that helped us to victory. Loyal fans of football, basketball, track, wrestling, baseball, and other sports cheered the teams and individuals who made this year another success. Much credit to Crawfordites must go for all the enthusiasm, loyalty, energy, time, and gas-money spent to support all Crawford athletic and non-athletic activities.

"All hail Crawford High School, crimson, white and blue, loyalty and honor we will pledge to you, forever . . ."

The Pursuit of Learning

"You've never heard of Caesar? ? ? ?"

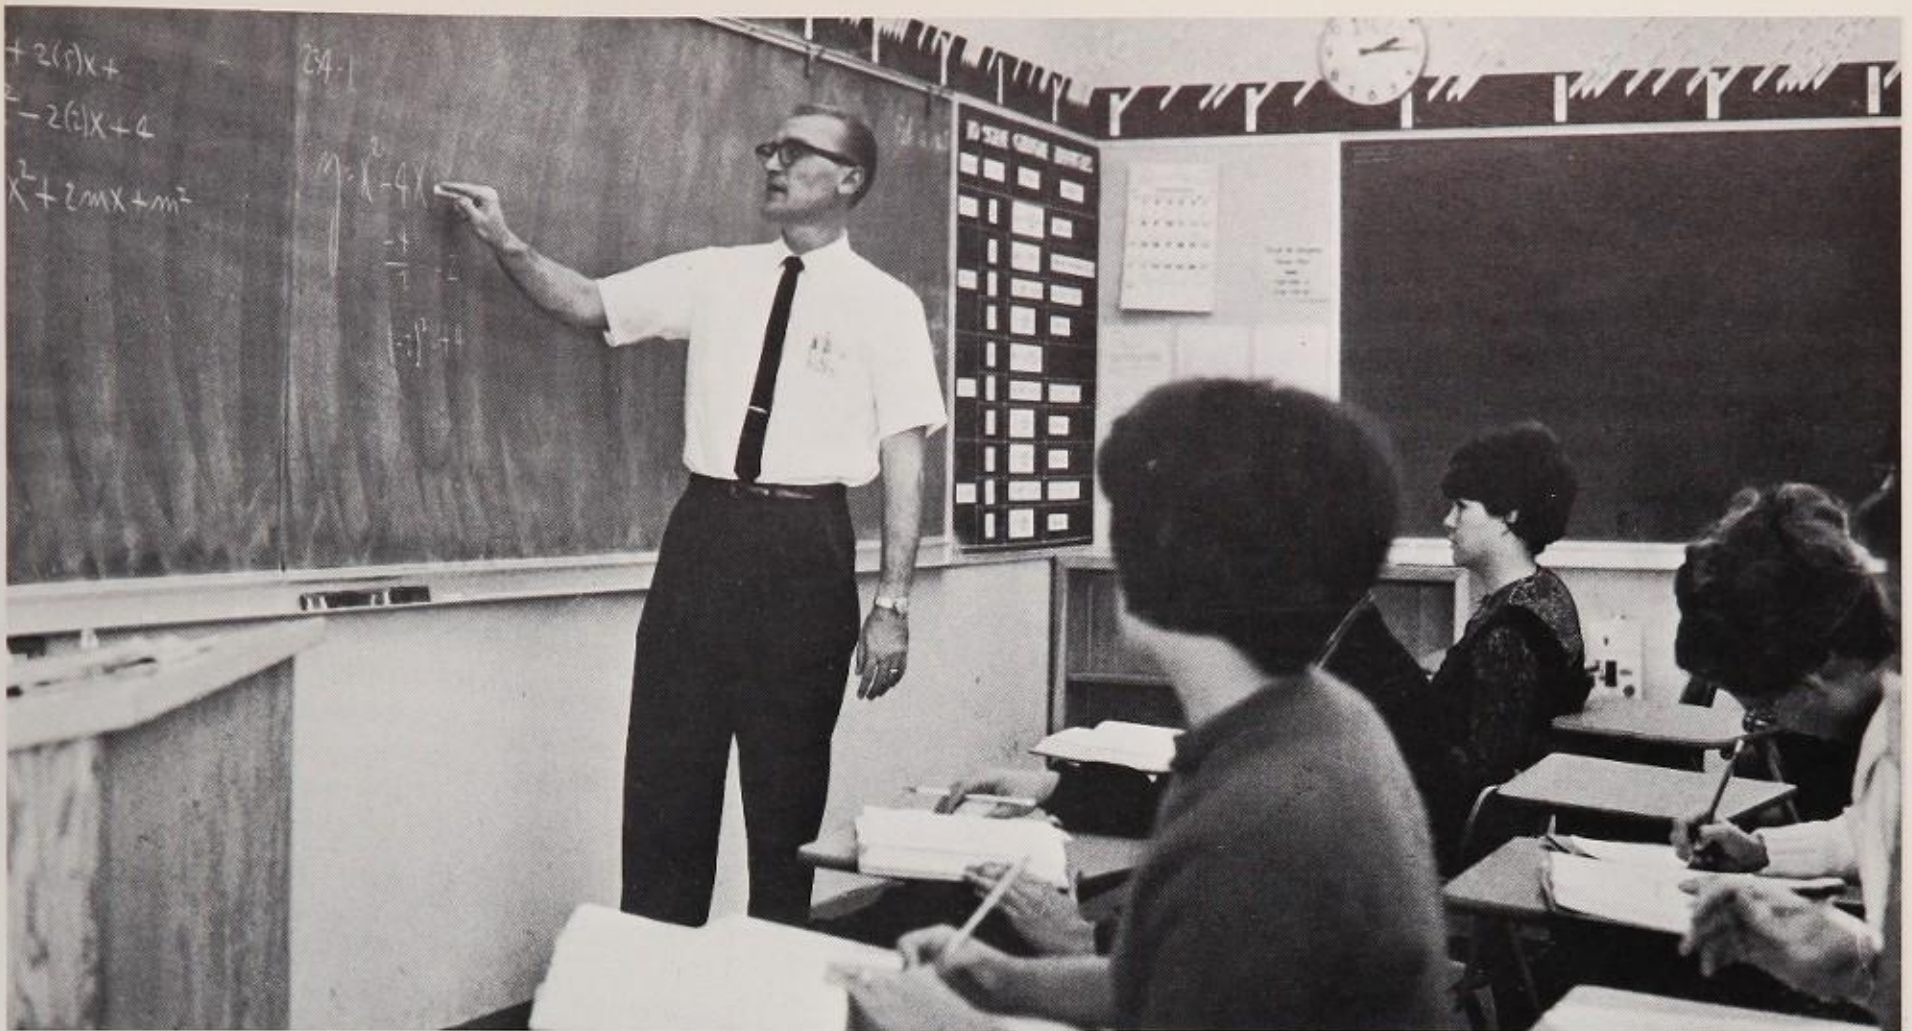

"Sigh . . . it sure is a beautiful day."

Whether by direct effort or not, Crawford students have completed another year of their high school education. New methods in teaching, vocational classes, language laboratories, modern equipment for illustrating scientific and mathematical principles, and skilled teachers have all contributed to our education.

"... O then, my best blood turn to an infected jelly, and my name . . ."

A future draftsman in-the-making at work.

For many, there were advanced or honors classes where the student was able to enrich himself. A typical day may have included reciting poetry in English, translating German in language class, putting the finishing touches on a newly sewn dress in Home Economics, or finding out what-went-where in Auto Shop. Everywhere there were people worrying and rushing to the next class or cramming for a long-neglected subject. All the chaos and cramming were a part of learning, the preparation for future successes.

Our Active Student Government

Students take part in an open meeting of the A.S.B. Council

The Seniors eagerly part with their hard-earned(?) cash for announcements.

Like our more populated counterparts, Crawford exercised the democratic principle. Each and every student was represented in various organizations throughout the school year. We elected our Boys' Federation representatives to represent all Crawford boys and their activities. For the girls, Girls' League completed a very active year. Our student government was among the most respected and efficient in the County. Each A.S.B. Commissioner was delegated with his or her job and kept Crawford activities running smoothly. The genuine enthusiasm of all participators is a quality of which we can be proud.

That Special Evening

Basketball games can be a bit(?) crowded sometimes!

Through the combined efforts of Crawford's administration and P.T.A., Crawford students enjoyed a full schedule of evening activities. Spirited dances, plays, and sports were just a few activities that Crawford students could participate in this year. Crawford Colts will long remember these activities as high spots in their careers at Crawford High. Much time and dedicated effort were devoted to insure the success of these annual activities.

Some are anxious, some are cheering, all for dear old Crawford High.

"I wanna hold your hand, I wanna hold your ha-aaa-nd."

American Field Service

Home is Santiago, Chile, for Lionel Olavarria, Crawford's American Field Service exchange student. Lionel finds his capital city very much different from San Diego, California. He has been a source of tough competition for his classmates in the field of Mathematics. For example, after qualifying by high scores on the Mathematics Association of America examination, Lionel joined five other Crawfordites to form the General Dynamics/Convair Mathematics Team. Lionel is taking Calculus, Honors Physics, Trigonometry, Journalism, English, American Government and Physical Education at Crawford this year. Aspiring to be an engineer he is enrolled in the University of Chile. Lionel has been an active member of the American Field Service Club at Crawford, and a member of the Key Club. Lionel is interested in English, the United States and photography.

Lionel has been living in the home of the R. J. Pabst family and his American foster brother, Wes, is attending Crawford as a Junior. People have been the key to Lionel's enjoyment of his year in the United States and his time here at Crawford. With his usual candidness and Latin American charm, Lionel spoke admiringly of the technological advances and machinery in the United States. The intricate freeway system, number of cars, manner of dress and speech in the country most impressed and interested him. He even found himself rather fascinated by a four-year-old's curly blonde hair.

To the past, present and future students of Will C. Crawford High School he has to say, "Our countries and customs are very different, however, your friendliness and genuine warmth have made me feel so very much at home. I shall never forget my year here in San Diego, and at Crawford. I have learned much from you." When the time for Lionel to return home to Chile rolls around the many friends he has made at Crawford and in San Diego will have many vivid memories of a charming Latin American student.

Friendship And Understanding

A slight bit of an accent and a bubbly personality characterize our English exchange student, Yvonne Stoner. Yvonne comes from Bournemouth, a city of about 50,000 in Southern England. During her stay in San Diego, Yvonne has lived with the J. T. Lewis family; sister Julie attends Crawford as a Senior. Yvonne was very much impressed with the United States and the American people. Some of the things that she will remember most are hamburgers, hot dogs, San Diego beaches, shopping centers, the automatic walk-through doors on DeFalco's Market near her home, and, of course, the cloverleaf freeways. A very busy Senior schedule kept Yvonne on her toes this year. She took Chemistry, German, World Affairs, Honors English, Physical Education, and Art. She stated that her World Affairs class worried her the most at first. "I didn't know hardly anything about international current events when I came and I felt quite lost. After being in my World Affairs class for several months, I feel like I've really learned a lot." She was surprised to find that following exactly the same schedule every day wasn't too tedious. School in Bournemouth is quite different from Crawford High. Yvonne's school is all-girl and she attends class for half a day on Saturday. In England Yvonne was taking 14 subjects, on alternating days. She and her friends attended movies quite a bit in their leisure time and enjoyed much the same activities as American students. The major difference being that her school didn't have the extra-curricular activities and dances that she enjoys here.

For all of Yvonne's friends at Crawford, June will be a little bit sadder. In late June, Yvonne will be returning to England from New York by boat after a bus trip back across the United States with the other foreign students on the American Field Service program. As a special farewell to all her friends here at Crawford Yvonne said, "I want to thank all of you for making my year here so very wonderful."

A fully developed and prosperous city depends on its organizations for support. This is Crawford's seventh year, and there are over thirty successful clubs and organizations on campus. Through Inter-Club Councils, clubs at Crawford work together to enlarge the activities and promote an active interest in school life. The success of a school depends on its students and organizations, just as a city is as successful as its citizens make it.

Promoting better understanding between the foreign exchange students, Yvonne Stoner and Lionel Olavarria, and the student body of Crawford was the primary goal of the A.F.S. The club held a tea honoring these students and also sold friendship bonds to help sponsor future exchange students. At their meetings, programs to further the interest in international cultures were presented to the members.

Acquainting interested and qualified students with the teaching profession was the goal of the Future Teachers of America. The club also encouraged its members toward college or university careers. The F.T.A. participated in election debates on the radio, as well as panel discussions and many other interesting and worthwhile activities.

Surfing is a very popular sport in San Diego, and the Surfing Club at Crawford helped to improve the surfing techniques and skills of its members. The club not only sought to improve the skills and conduct of its own members, but that of non-members as well. Among the activities of the club were an inter-club surfing contest and the sponsoring of a surfing movie at lunch.

Two of the largest activities at Crawford were sponsored by the Senior Y-Teens under the able leadership of Phyllis Curry. The beautiful thirty-foot Homecoming float, built under the guidance of Carla Stewart, was the best in Crawford's history. The success of Mistletoe and Bells, the only Christmas dance at Crawford, may be attributed to Leana Liberto, chairman, and her hardworking committee. The Senior Y-Teens also sponsored a rummage sale, the redecorating of Seminole, and many other worthwhile projects.

Car washes, a good-will drive, mistletoe picking, and working with an orphanage and an old folks home were among the many activities of the Junior Y-Teens. They had a busy year under the leadership of President Shirley Buss and her active cabinet. The club was a part of the local, national, and world association of the Y.W.C.A. Any eleventh grade girl could be a member of this world-wide organization. The Junior Y-Teens worked especially hard in combining fun with service to have a successful year to look back on.

Under the directorship of Mr. Frank, all of the choral groups had outstanding performances throughout the year. The Choral Club, consisting of members from each group, worked together this year to coordinate and plan the activities of the Choral Department.

Crawford was especially proud of its Madrigal Ensemble. It performed over sixty times this year, specializing in Madrigal Literature.

At the Spring Concert and at festivals, the Girls' Chorus and both choirs combined to form a top group. This was the first year that Crawford had a successful Boys' Choir. The Girls' Choir was an advanced group of eleventh and twelfth grade girls. The Girls' Chorus was basically a beginning group, though they were in every performance.

It is a tradition for Crawford choral groups to receive superior ratings. Mr. Frank did a wonderful job directing them and the school was proud of their top performances. All of the groups sang in the Thanksgiving Assembly and the Winter Holiday Concert. They also performed for the P.T.A., Open House, and the county and city festivals in the spring.

Stage Band

Crawford was very proud of its orchestra, which performed in the same concerts and festivals as the band. All of the string instruments met as a class, but the winds and percussions were volunteers who rehearsed on their own time. They combined to form the Symphonic Orchestra.

The Stage Band, which practiced on its own time, presented the first jazz concert at Crawford. It was designed to perform music Count Bassie style, or like that of the big bands. It played two jazz concerts and performed in the Pops Concert and South Western College Festival.

The Marching Colts Band was the first city school's band in fifteen years to march in competition at the Autumn Band Review. Crawford was proud of their many performances. They also did four half-times and marched in the North Park Toyland Parade, the Balloon Parade, and at State's Band Night.

San Diego, growing metropolis of Southern California, makes available to its residents an endless array of cultural, exciting, and fun-filled activities. These provide relaxation and an entertaining change from the everyday routine of business life in our city. As students of Crawford, attending school is our business, and the numerous outside activities provided for our enjoyment are gladly welcomed. Throughout the year we are offered banquets, concerts, dances, festivals, movies, and even a nominating convention, all of which may be paralleled with the activities of our city.

Time Out For Ginger

Stacy Mann and Pat Shoemaker truly deserved applause for their outstanding portraits of Ginger in this year's All School Play, "Time Out for Ginger." Presented by Mr. Van Buskirk's Play Production class, it was the hilarious story of a high school co-ed who tried out for the Varsity football team. To the thankful satisfaction of her family, however, Ginger soon realized that being a girl was far more fun. The performances, which took place on December third and fourth, proved to be the best ever given at Crawford High School and brought a great deal of enjoyment to all who attended them.

This year's All School Play, "Time Out for Ginger," was a success.

The handlebars are okay!

Yep! It's in fine condition!

Boys' Federation

Under the able presidency of Terry O'Rourke, the Boys' Federation this year displayed more participation and enthusiasm than ever before in the history of Crawford. It sponsored such school spirited activities as the sale of beanies and pep buttons. Besides these, the Boys' Federation was instrumental in preparing the 1965 Freedom's Foundation entry from C.H.S., and in planning and carrying out an efficient traffic safety program. Working with its new advisor, Mr. Maley, this organization took numerous strides toward greater success in the future.

Autumn Round-Up

The decorations committee worked long after school.

"Whata ya say, partner?"

Held annually in honor of our foreign exchange students, the first dance of the year, Autumn Round-Up, was presented to the student body of Crawford High on October 2nd, 1964. Jointly sponsored by Girls' League and Boys' Federation, and under the co-chairmanship of Jeannie Lynch and Jim Boaz, it depicted the excitement of the unsettled frontier once found in America's "Wild West." Covered wagons and the Silver Spur Saloon added to the autumn atmosphere created by a color scheme of oranges, browns, and reds.

Music was provided by the Impalas.

"I could've danced all night!"

April a la Mode

Corsages and boutonnieres were sold at the door.

"'April Love' is for the very young . . ."

"'April Love' is for the very young . . ." and, so, the Girls' League used this appropriate theme to usher in the wonderful spring season with its annual "April a la Mode." Every star was a wishing star for the couples who attended this memorable event and shared in its charm and magic. Held in the gymnasium on Friday evening, April 23rd, the fresh and airy atmosphere created by pastel flowers and tiny doves left everyone feeling young, alive, and ready for the happiness of spring. Connie McDaniel, general chairman, deserved congratulations for the success of this traditional Girls' League dance.

Girls' League

Consisting of some 1500 members, our Girls' League was one of the most prominent organizations on campus. Capably led by Diana Lee, it was responsible for sponsoring a most successful Sophomore Tea and Dad and Daughter Banquet. The League also established a new tradition this year — Girls' League Week, originated to acquaint each co-ed with the many aspects of Crawford's Girls' League. Through service and fun, such as "Bundle Day" and the student-faculty fashion show, it proved to be worthwhile for building strong characters and fine personalities.

Carolyn Raney was chairman of "Hearts to Dad."

Coed of the Year

Given the highest recognition possible by the girls of Crawford High, Geri McGurn was honored as Coed of the Year for her outstanding scholastic performance and tremendous school service. She served with enthusiasm and efficiency, not only her class, but, above all, her A.S.B. for three happy and productive years.

As Commissioner of Rallies and Assemblies, Geri spent many long hours preparing skits, programs, and agendas. Her work received much recognition for its high quality. Geri also was an active member of Auroras and was the hard-working Senior Editor on the Centaur staff.

The Girls of the Month pictured here are attractive and congenial coeds, also recognized for their active participation in school activities. Prominent members of the Senior Class were Diana Lee, Commissioner of Girls' Activities; Maria Long, Commissioner of Student Affairs; Carla Stewart, Senior Prom Chairman; Jo Reusch, H.S.S. President; Jane Peters, Girls' League Vice President; Shirley Strum, A.S.B. Historian; and Diana Loss, A.S.B. Clerk and "Riot Squad" Chairman.

School Spirit

Ready, Colts? Hit it!

School spirit is undeniably the cornerstone in constructing a prominent and outstanding high school. Crawford is proud to be known and recognized throughout this district for the strength and endurance of its cornerstone. Bringing success and unity to C.H.S. the school spirit of every Colt is always strongest when the going is toughest. From the cheering masses of Crawfordites, eight students are selected annually to be honored by the A.S.B. for their display of tremendous spirit. Susie Boyd and Steve Norman were crowned Mr. and Miss Pep 1965. They reigned with a court consisting of Senior attendants Loi Olson and Tom Patterson, Junior attendants Nancy Miljas and Larry Leatherman, and Sophomore attendants Sherry Rives and Gary Kapchinske.

A Christmas assembly by the Music Department.

Much to the delight of every Colt, talent selected from amongst the Crawford student body provided entertaining performances on many occasions. Groups such as Thespians, the Girls' Choir, and the Stage Band left a satisfying impression on Crawfordites which will long be remembered. Also, the wonderful jobs done by the Song and Cheerleaders, the "Colt" mascot, and the tremendous Pep Band will never be forgotten. The A.S.B. Rallies and Assemblies Committee was instrumental in planning and presenting the various rallies and assemblies.

The Thespians were an active group this year.

Reflecting an image of good sportsmanship and the highest school spirit, our "Colt mascot" performed with a traditional pride for Crawford High this year. The many hours of practice and creative thinking spent by Jerry Bucheit and Chip Kull in perfecting their antics and routines resulted in fine co-ordination and timing, the exact elements required by this position. Excitement and enthusiasm were continuously displayed by the cheering crowds at every rally and game as our energetic "Colt" playfully rollicked in front of them.

April 19th through the 23rd was set aside for fun, activities, and excitement in commemoration of our school founder, Dr. Will C. Crawford. Monday's Will C. Crawford Assembly set the pace for the week by informing students as to the background of our benefactor. The A.S.B. Election Rally took place on Tuesday, and April 21st saw an open A.S.B. meeting. Under the supervision of Peggy Blackman, a Clean Campus Assembly was presented Thursday. Last, but not least, the Spring Sports Rally brought this spirited week to a momentous conclusion.

Our Pep Band

The best band in all of San Diego!

"In the Mood" and "Kids," not to mention the ever-favorite Crawford Alma Mater, are just a small sampling of the countless arrangements which were played by our accomplished Pep Band. This group of very talented musicians was unquestionably the instrumental success of every rally and many football and basketball games during the past year. Due to its high quality of "tone" and "tune" the Pep Band also expanded its activities and performed for the Junior Class Party and the Associated Student Body Nominating Convention.

Junior Varsity Song and Cheerleaders

Our very school spirited Junior Varsity Song and Cheerleaders.

Junior Varsity sports are a major point in the successful athletic program at Crawford. Thus, the responsibility for promoting enthusiasm and excitement toward these activities is large and requires strong capability. The Sophomore Class did an excellent job in selecting the very spirited Cheryl Crofoot, Chris Kindt, Stacy Mann, Glen Butner, and Herman Tidmore to serve as its JV Song and Cheerleaders.

Under the general chairmanship of Commissioner of Student Affairs, Maria Long, Homecoming 1964 was the biggest and best ever experienced by C.H.S. The hundreds of hours of preparation spent in planning and organizing numberless details proved more than worthwhile when Homecoming Week was presented in all of its glory and sensation. Starting October 12th and continuing up until midnight October 16th every moment was filled with excitement and fervor. Activities such as this year's first quad rally, an H.S.S. shaker sale, Donut Dunk 'Em, and a "mum" sale will long be remembered by each Crawfordite. In honor of the graduated classes of '60 and '64, the Alumni Rally and Tea were held on Friday. That evening saw the climax to this unforgettable week in the thrill of our Eighth Annual Homecoming Game. Half-time was truly the most impressive ever witnessed by Crawfordites, with the presentation of Miss Lois Olson amidst the lovely Homecoming Court on the beautiful float which had been designed and constructed by Senior Y-Teens. Displaying their tremendous approval, countless Colts released helium balloons as Crawford prepared itself for further excitement. The whole week drew to a memorable conclusion with the celebration of a "VICTORY" dance after the defeat of Saints.

Each year the student body of Will C. Crawford High School takes part in many traditional activities. However, in addition to these annual affairs, several occasions which have come to be known as "special events" are bound to arise. Last fall the rivalry which exists between the mighty Crawford Colts and the Hoover Cardinals was officially recognized by the exchange of a "victory plaque." This merely headed the long list of special events. It was followed by such things as the spirit bus to El Centro on October 2, 1964 and a visit by members of the armed forces of various foreign nations. Our G.A.A. welcomed San Diego and Hoover for a field day and our A.S.B. Council hosted the San Diego Associated Student Council Day.

"Camelot"—A.S.B. Ball

The Eighth Annual Associated Student Body Commissioners' Ball, "Camelot," was presented on February 12th, 1965.

Returning to the days of magic and sorcery; to the land of romance and adventure, the Associated Student Body Commissioners of Crawford High School presented "Camelot," the Eighth Annual A.S.B. Ball on Friday evening, February 12th, 1965. The new Community Concourse Convention Center provided an exciting setting for the most successful A.S.B. ever attended by members of the student body of C.H.S.

Mystical castles and smiling jesters decorated each table, creating an atmosphere of fantasy and wonder, while a jolly green dragon guarded the entrance to the main ballroom. Streamers of yellow, orange, brown, blue, pink, purple, and green added to the beauty and elegance of the room.

Under the direction of co-chairmen Maria Long, Commissioner of Student Affairs, and Bob Phillips, A.S.B. Vice-President, this year's Council began planning and organizing the event several months in advance. A truly memorable and delightful time was had by 545 couples in attendance.

Junior Class Party

Did you say you were a high school student? Sure!

Jumping rope is good exercise, you know.

Gather 'round and I'll tell you a story.

"Kiddie Kapers," the Junior Class Party, was held on March 5, 1965, from eight o'clock to eleven o'clock P.M. in the Crawford gymnasium. Venturing back into the carefree days of childhood fun and fancy, the Juniors played "Ring-Around-the-Rosy," "Pin the Tail on the Colt," "Hop Scotch," and "London Bridges." An "Art Korner" provided an opportunity for creative expression, and the colorful costumes were judged in a contest. The Stage Band provided music and four folk-singing groups entertained and added to the excitement. Cookies in the form of clowns and ferocious animals were served as refreshments. This most successful event was planned under the direction of Sheryl Slayen.

Now you see it . . . now you don't!

Welcome to the "Circus World."

"I now pronounce you man and wife."

"Circus World," the Sophomore Class Party, was held on April 2, 1965, from seven-thirty until ten o'clock P.M. under the "big top" of Crawford's gym. Featuring a strong man, a fat lady, an elastic lady, and a magic act, the side shows provided humorous entertainment. The exciting atmosphere of the circus world was further enhanced by carnival games and contests. Preparations for this successful event were directed by Mr. McLaughlin, the class advisor. Hardworking and enthusiastic members of the Sophomore Class volunteered their time and energies toward making their party a great success, and establishing the "Circus World" theme as a tradition for future Sophomore Classes to follow.

The sad ending to a marriage!

The Ninth Annual Nominating Convention was held in the Crawford gym on April 30th, 1965.

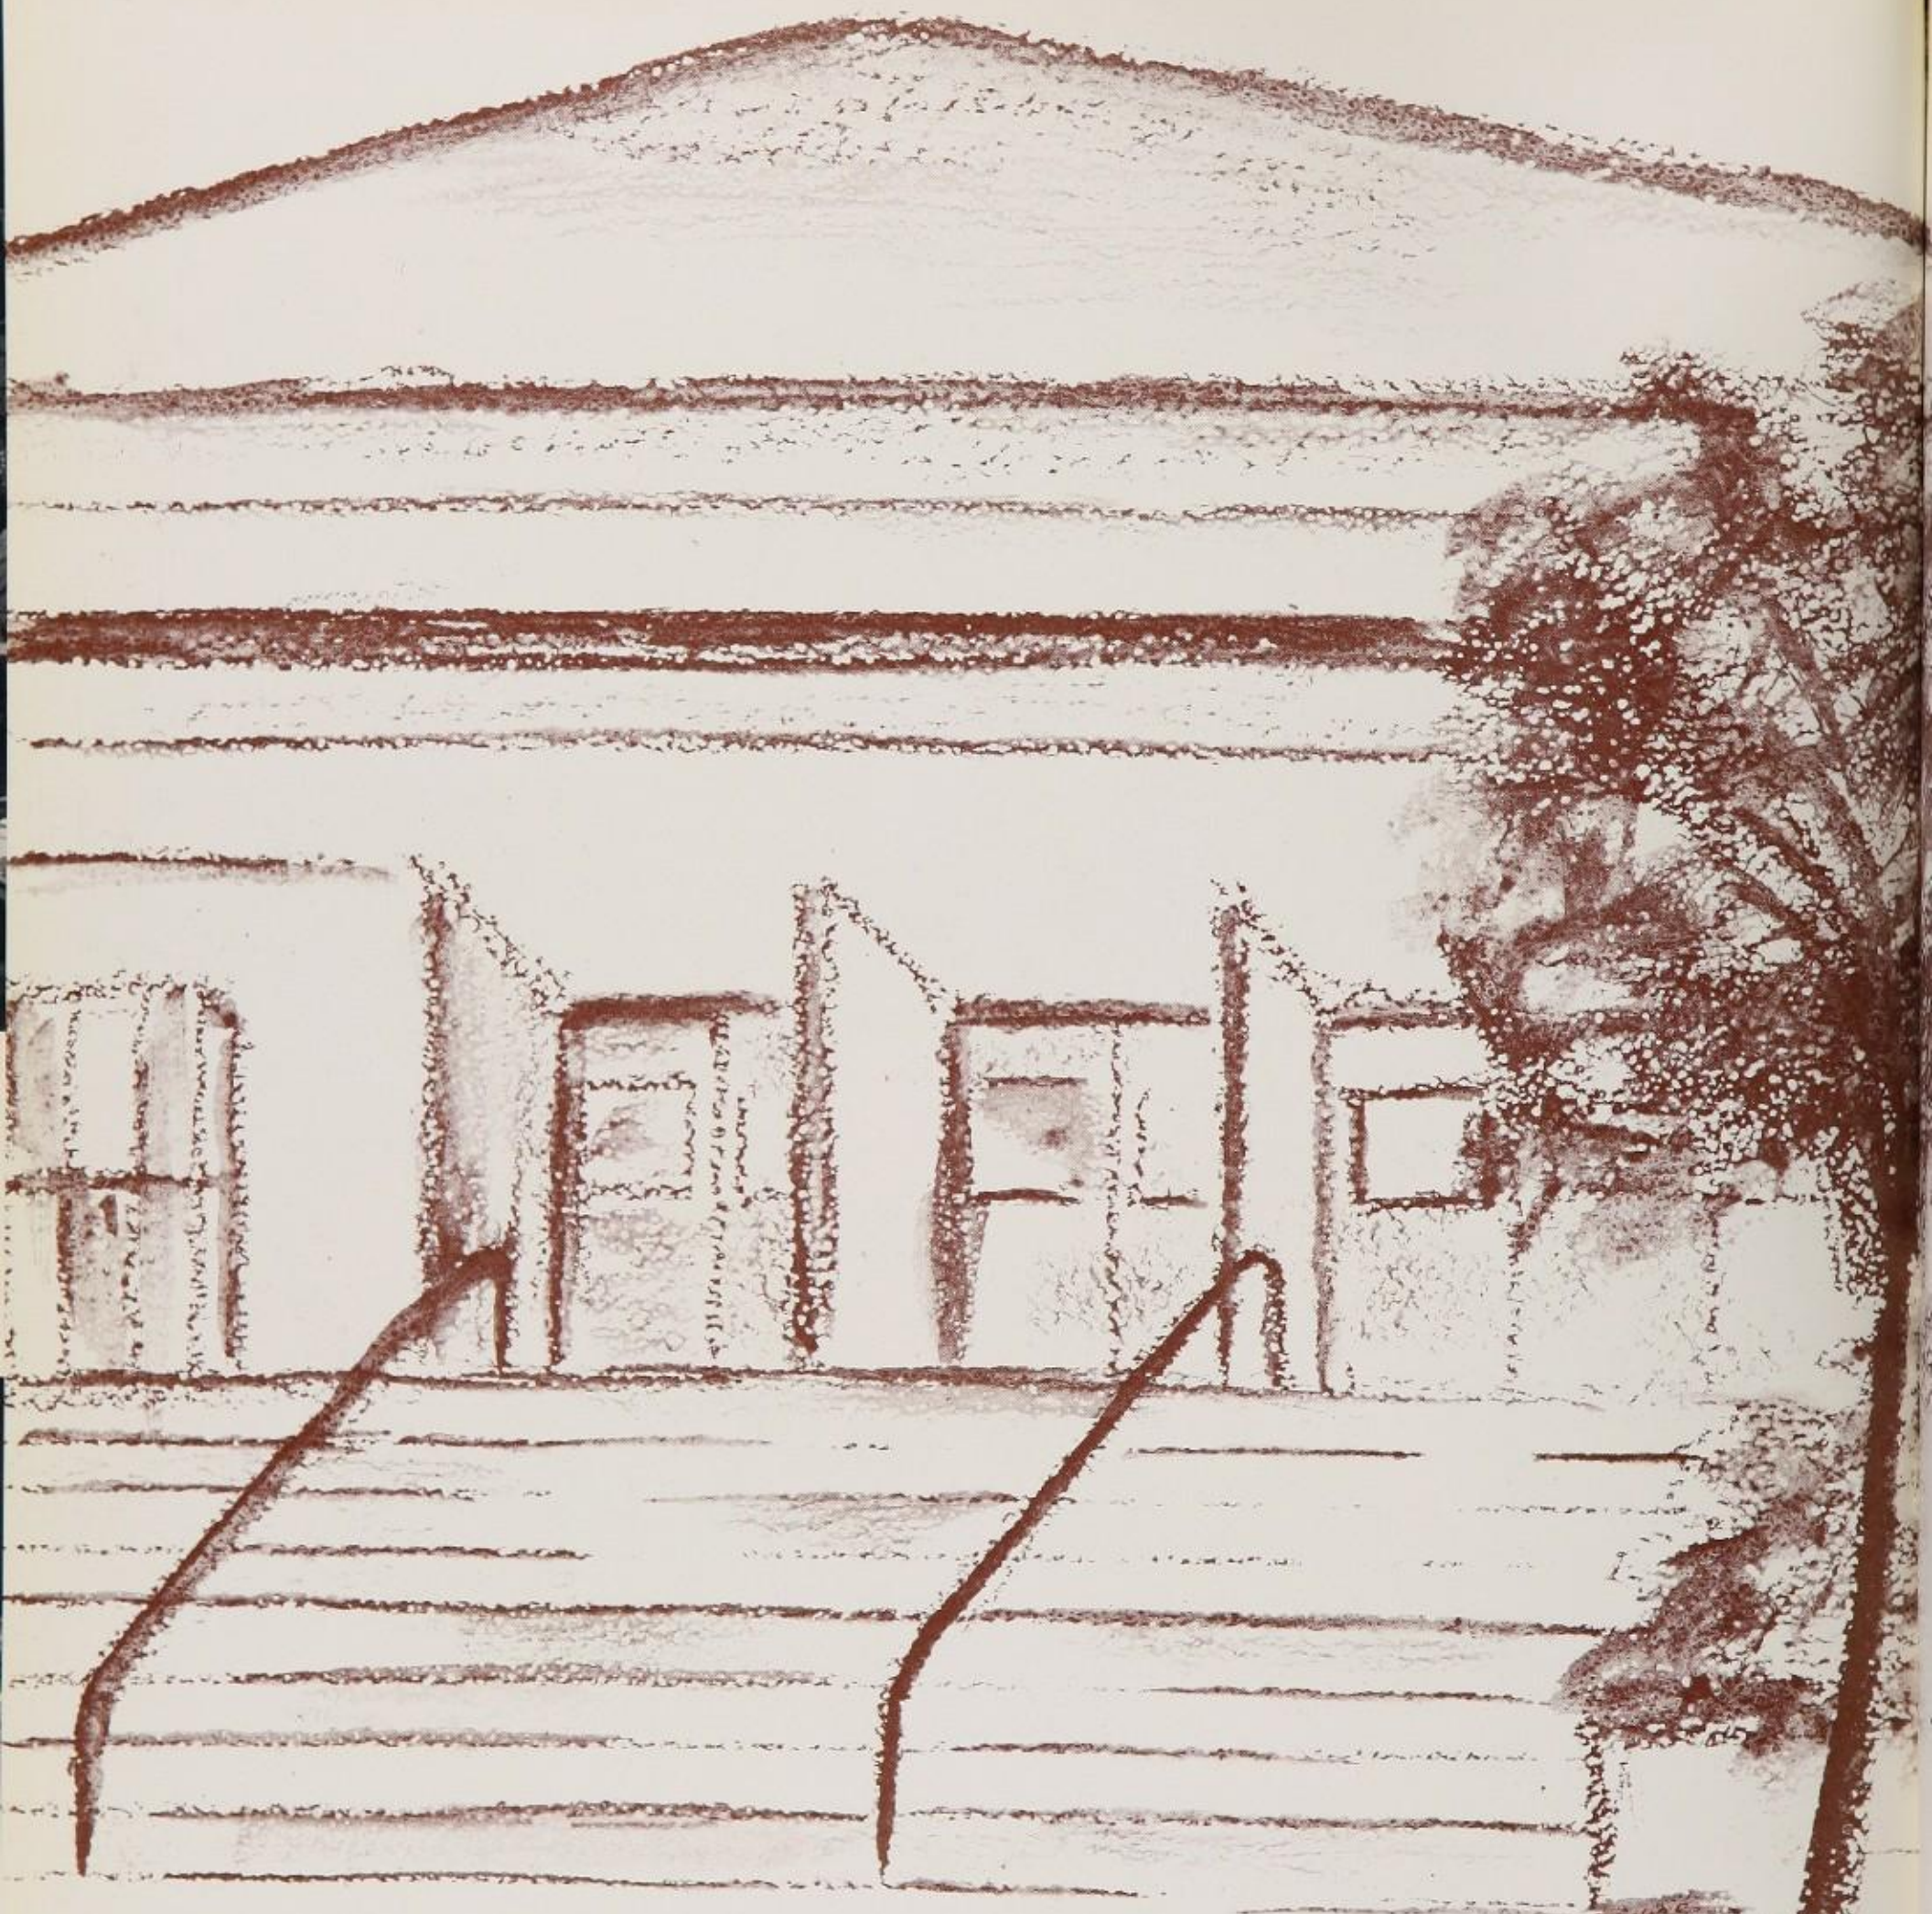

Nominating Convention

This was the most important event in preparing for the new year.

The Ninth Annual Nominating Convention of Will C. Crawford High School was called to order on Friday morning, April 30th, 1965, by Steve Hill, Associated Student Body Commissioner of Elections. Confetti flew, banners waved, and horns were blown as delegates and supporters campaigned for the candidates of their choice. Office seekers spent four weeks campaigning for the student body positions, and on May 6th the excitement came to a climax as final voting took place and the new A.S.B. Commissioners were announced.

San Diego is generally thought of as fertile ground for athletic development. Correspondingly, Crawford, our "city within a city," boasts one of the finest athletic programs among San Diego secondary schools.

Utilizing both incentives for victory and unimpeachable sportsmanlike ideals, Crawford athletes have established the development of physical skills as an integral part of student life.

Sportsmanship and ability associated so closely with Crawford athletics was truly depicted by our 1964 season of football. Under the supervision of Coaches Smith and Malcolm, the Colts wound up the season with six wins, two losses, and one tie. Through the combined efforts of All-Eastern League Quarterback Skip Jacobson, and end Steve Kapchinske the Colts walked away with Crawford's first Homecoming Victory, shutting the Saints out by an eighteen to zero margin.

The next two years should prove very exciting for Crawford fans, because of the emergence of such fine prospects as halfbacks Bob Petretta, and Tom Rubin and lineman Lee Felice.

Nineteen sixty-four was a successful year for the Junior Varsity football squad. Combining team and individual efforts, the fighting Colts finished with an overall record of 6-3. The team, again coached by Bill Sandback and Jim Romig, endeavored to capitalize on their opponents' mistakes, while learning from their own. The end of the Junior Varsity season marked the beginning of a bright football future for Crawford High.

COACH HARVEY

Cross Country 1964

Known primarily as an endurance sport, cross-country running requires 100% effort and a will-to-win of its participants.

Nineteen sixty-four found the Colt harriers in top physical condition in readiness for tough Eastern League competition. Guided this year by Coach Walt Harvey and his team captain Rod Collier, the Crawford runners finished with a tie for the Eastern League title and a 7-2 over-all record.

The Colt attacks were spearheaded by the fine efforts of such runners as Jim Guffey and Steve Martin.

At each cross-country meet both the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads lined up to begin their strenuous journey over rolling San Diego hills. Age and potential speed separated the Varsity from the secondary wave, but the hills were just as steep, the distance just as staggering.

This year the Junior Varsity left their opponents far behind, finishing with a perfect 8-0 dual-meet record.

With each sounding of the starting gun, Coach Harvey witnessed with pride his Junior Varsity harriers charging forward to claim their well-earned victories that would someday be transformed into major contributions to Crawford athletics.

Nineteen sixty-four was the year for Crawford Gymnastics. At the close of the nineteen sixty-three season, the Colts took the C.I.F. championship for the second consecutive year. But there remained one question in everyone's mind: could Crawford clinch the sectional title for the third year?

The question was answered in grand style, as the Colts finished with a perfect season and the C.I.F. title. In addition to the C.I.F. victories, the gymnasts have accumulated twenty-five consecutive dual-meet wins in the past five years.

The squad, spear-headed by such Seniors as Preston Beebe, Jerry Bucheit, and Captain Fritz Siebuhr, swept the league under the direction of Coach Gerald Tooze.

The effort of these talented Colts during the past few years deserves the praise and admiration of every proud Colt.

COACH SAMS

Excitement, superlative ball handling, and one earth-shaking upset characterized Crawford's 1965 Basketball season.

The Colt squad, led by Senior Captain Bob Boone and Junior Von Jacobsen, rolled over its league opponents and clinched the Eastern League title with a 50 to 39 win over arch-rival Hoover.

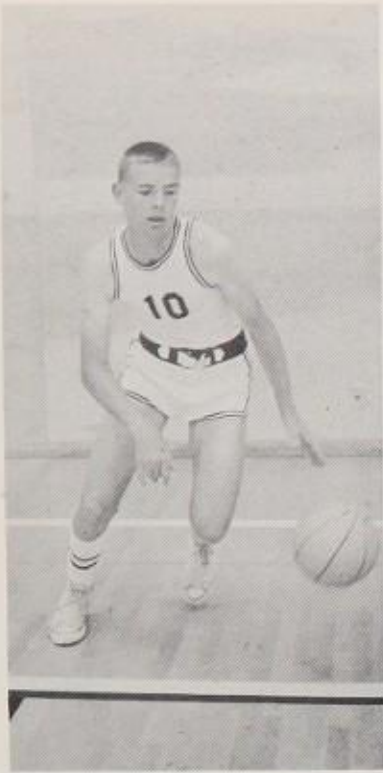

Unfortunately Crawford's string of victories ended in a crucial C.I.F. semi-final game with La Jolla (70-56).

Overall, however, Crawford boasted a 22 win 4 loss record, demonstrating the superior techniques of Coach Sams and his men.

COACH BUECHLER

In many ways a J.V. coach has as tough an assignment as his varsity counterpart. To him falls the responsibility of training and teaching the younger athletes the fundamentals of the sport involved.

For the past few years Coach Don Buechler and his J.V. basketball players have personified the Crawford victorious spirit. Nineteen and sixty-five was no exception.

Led by such men as Greg Mattenero, Steve Clem and Lee Felice, the J.V. cagers gained both victories for Crawford and invaluable experience.

COACH SMITH

Dexterity, endurance, and speed were the techniques Crawford matmen showed consistently in competition with other schools. Victory was a constant challenge to the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams.

The Varsity ended the season with 1 win, 8 losses. Junior Varsity competition was particularly keen this year, proving that the upcoming years shall find our Varsity matmen in a top ranking category.

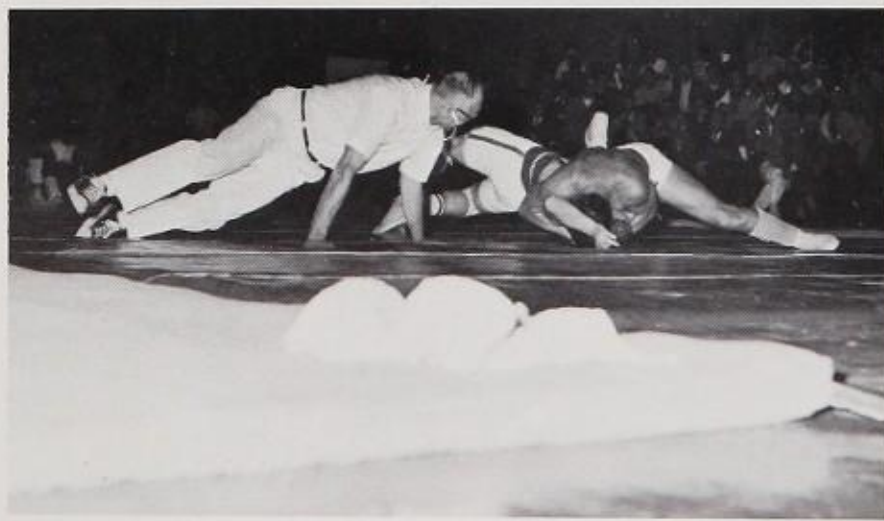

Training the two fighting squads came under the responsibility of Coaches Smith and Lanham. This was Mr. Lanham's first year at Crawford and all agreed that he was both outstanding as a coach and a stimulus for many J.V. matman.

Varsity Track 1965

Through the years track and field has evolved into a sport in which individual efforts are totalled to produce a team score.

Coach Harvey has done a superlative job this year of drawing out the best talents of each of his Crawford trackmen resulting in both high team spirit and recognition of individual achievements.

Battling for victory in San Diego's toughest league, the Colt track stars, led by their captain and foremost shot-putter Dave Colegrove, fought tirelessly against terrific competition. Also, putting forth extra efforts were record-breaking pole-vaulter Jimmy Callafata, two-miler Steve Martin and sprinter Steve Rives.

The 1965 Colt track team represents a fine example of Crawford's athletic standards combining victory and honor.

The Colts couldn't have picked a better year to think positively. With returning lettermen Greg Werdick (this year's team captain), Bob Boone, Dennis Isom and a host of other talented loopmen, the Colts took the field ready to show no mercy to their adversaries.

The indomitable Colt spirit of victory was never more evident than in the ability and hustle of this fine example of Crawford athletic excellence.

GREG WERDICK

Junior Varsity Baseball

The batmen got off to a slow start, but the season proved to be a beneficial one. The team agreed that a large amount of strategy plus the experience gained will prove to be quite beneficial when they play on the varsity team.

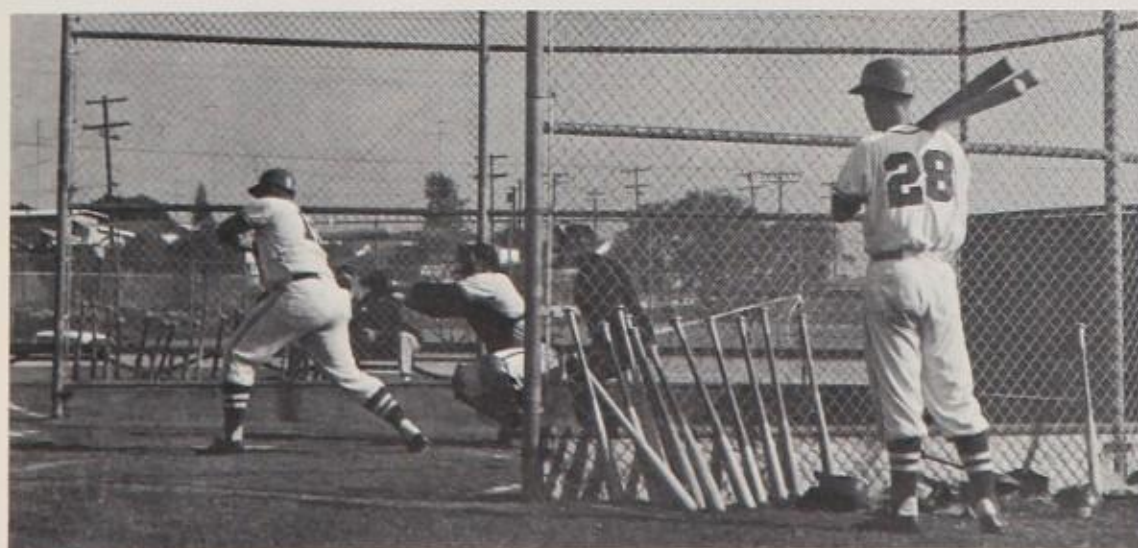

Eastern league confronted the batmen with a consistent batting threat but our starting nine exhibited fine coordination both on and off the field. The potential was great, and the playing was done in earnest, which is quite a consolation to spirited coach Tooze, who always finds the best in the least.

The Crawford golf team, again under the supervision of Coach Don Buechler, had bright prospects going into the 1965 spring season.

In addition to returning lettermen Chuck Ham, Jim Flynn and Roger Hayes, the Colts supplemented their strength on the links with some sophomore reserves. Included with these new Crawford-ites was Greg Trompas, the squad's top ranked golfer.

The Crawford golfers practiced long hours on San Diego's best courses to prepare themselves for their upcoming matches.

COACH SAMS

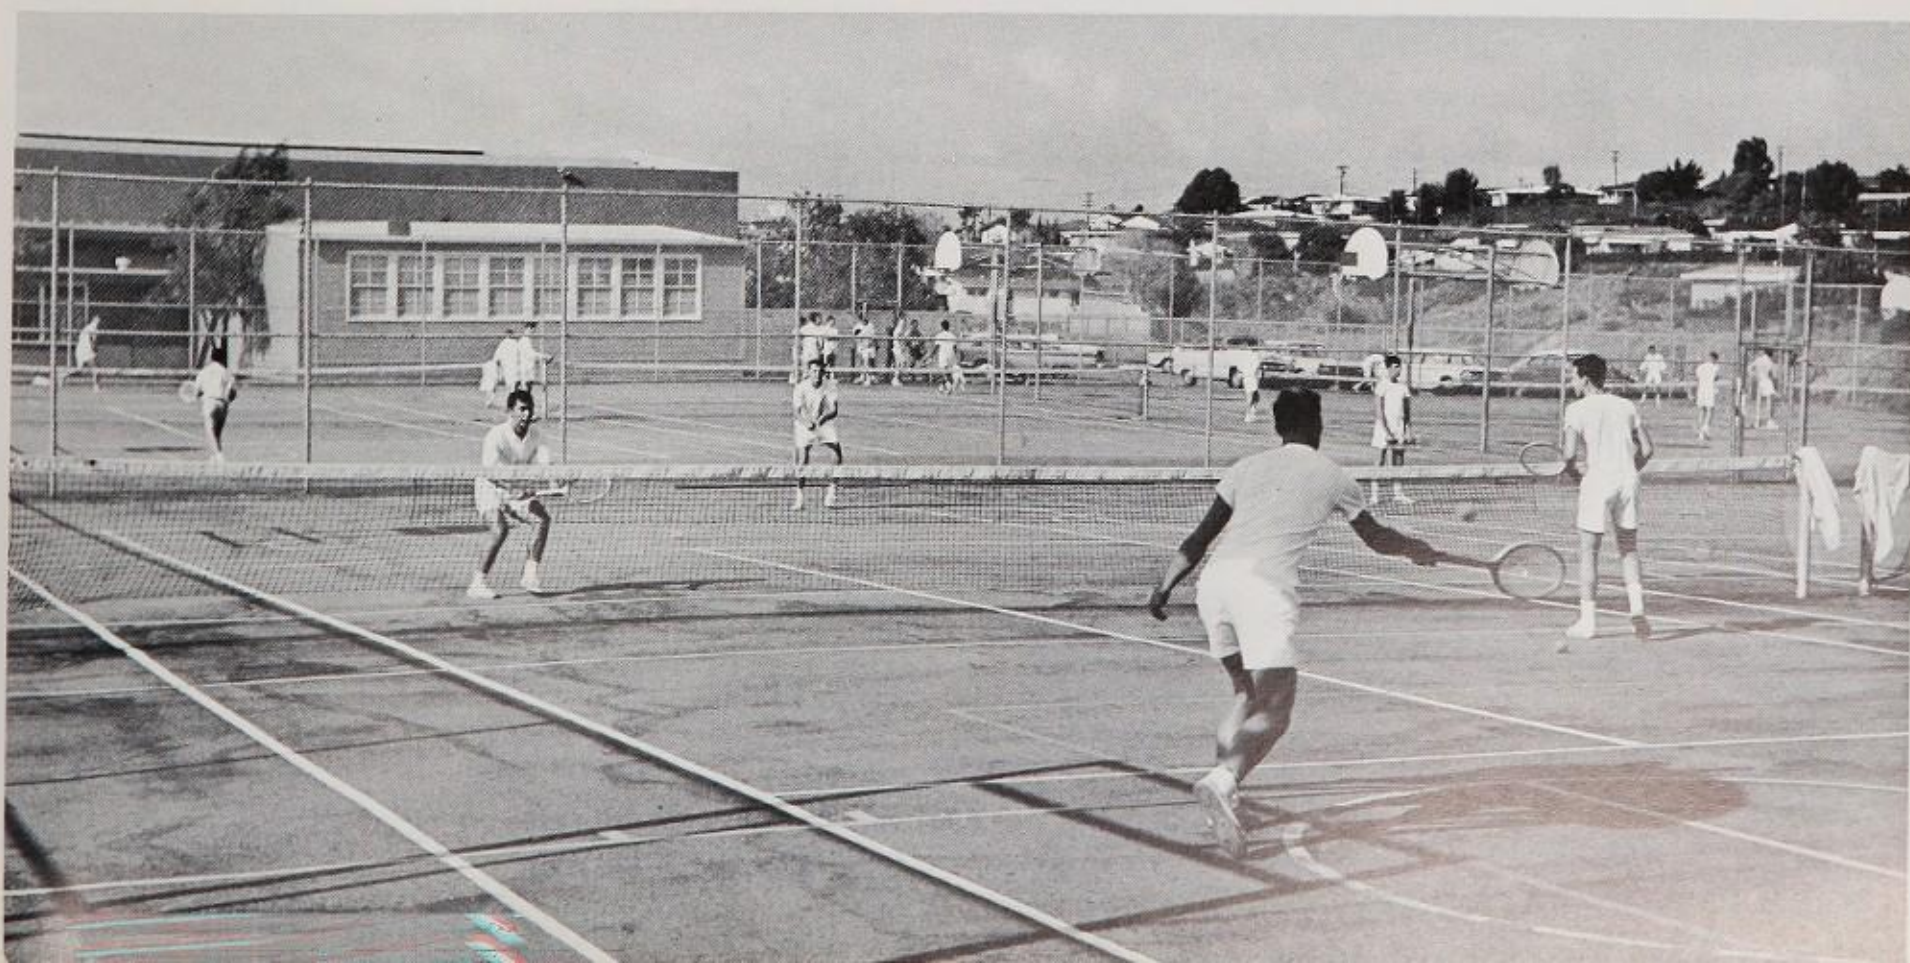

Tennis 1965

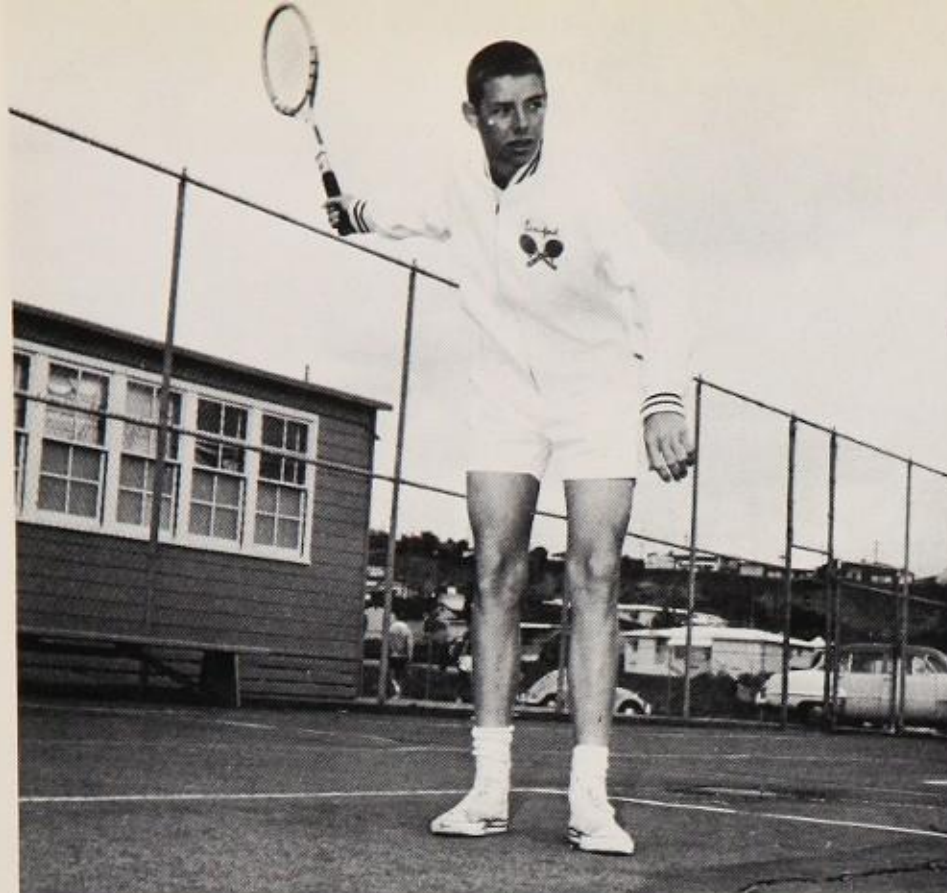

Coach Jim Sams' tennis squad enjoyed the return of four varsity lettermen this year. Forming the core around which Coach Sams added new prospects was Dave Bennet, Mark Lebovits, Ray Lucy and Greg Chase.

Distributing his talent evenly between singles and doubles matches, Coach Sams produced a well-balanced team of netmen.

Many afternoons of tedious practice payed off in points and victories for the Crawford tennis squad.

Swimming 1965

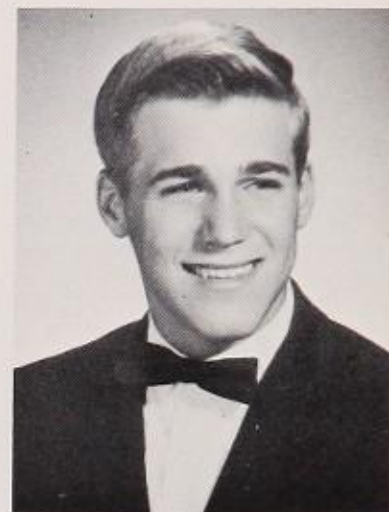

COACH DRAZ

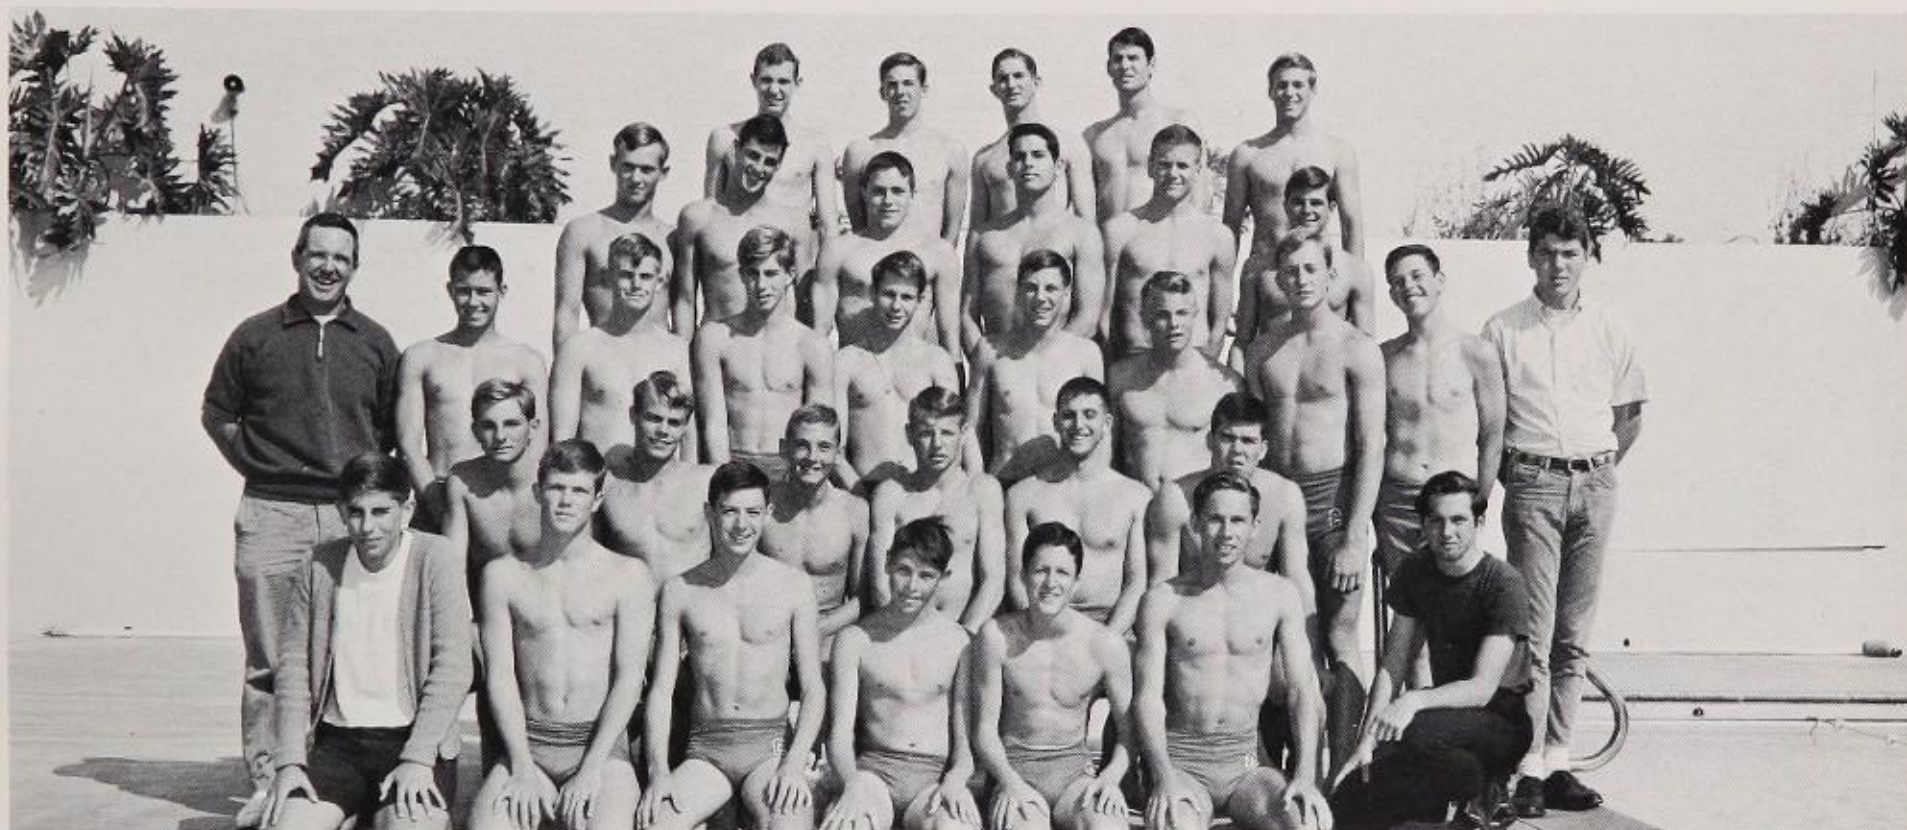

This was Coach Dick Draz' third year as Crawford's swimming coach and he led his team to a familiar finish — victory. For the second consecutive year the Colt swimmers toppled foe after foe on their road to a City League championship.

The Colts were spearheaded by captain Steve Brunner, Terry Thompson and Butch Carter.

Coach Draz has many upcoming Juniors and Sophomores who offer promising prospects for next year's season.

Intra-Mural Sports 1965

COACH MEDENWALD

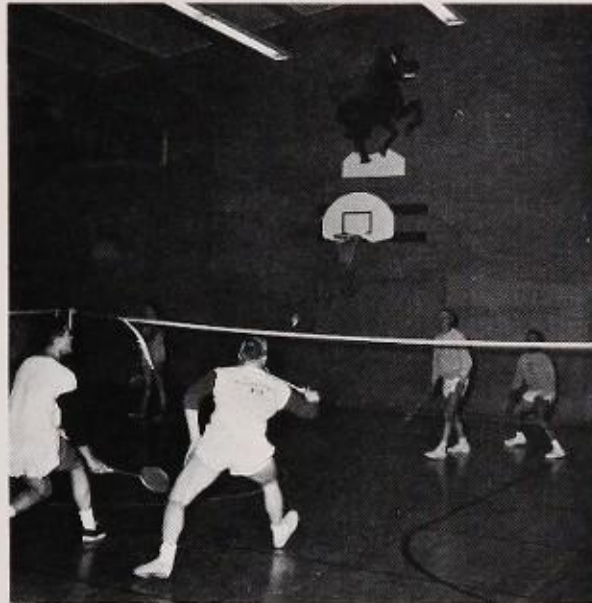

Going into its second year of successful participation, intra-mural sports activities enjoyed wide school support.

Again under the directing of Coach Medenwald and Sports Council President Ernie O'Byrne, the agenda included badminton, basketball and other athletic activities.

This well-organized program offers any boy who has not lettered in a varsity sport to participate in inter-school competition.

U.S.M.F.S. Champion

Having a national champ in Crawford's ranks, is indeed an honor to the school and the individual. Roger Bass has won the 1965 Men's Figure Skating Championship, Novice Division. Roger practices diligently, 16 hours a week, and he aspires to be an Olympic Gold-Medal winner.

The entire Crawford student body joins us in wishing Roger good luck in his future skating competition.

Having spent the past three years within the "city" of Will C. Crawford High School, the Senior Class of 1965 has developed into active citizens who will, in the very near future, become immersed in the new and varied activities of city life in college, career, and the future.

Even though they will embark upon a new way of life and travel separate ways, the Senior Class shall always remain together in fond memories.

Senior Class Chairmen

Because of the efforts of this group, Senior Activities were skillfully planned and executed.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Jo Reusch

Throughout the year, our Senior Class Committee Chairmen helped to plan and organize each of the Senior Activities. Having their meetings after school at 3:00 in Room 857, on every other Wednesday, the Class Chairmen coordinated their plans and initiated new ideas into the traditional Senior Activities here at Crawford. Each chairman worked closely with his committee to formulate his program into successful Senior Class Activities.

We owe them our deepest appreciation, for they helped to make a Senior Year that shall always remain a fond memory.

C.S.F. Life Members, also known as the "Seal Bearers," qualified for these titles by maintaining outstanding scholastic averages. Eligibility for membership as C.S.F. Life Members depended upon citizenship grades as well as maintaining an "A" average four semesters, with one semester being in the senior year.

These Life Members carried the C.S.F. Gold Seal on their graduation diplomas and transcripts and were eligible for scholarships through the California Scholarship Federation.

Class History

As new Sophomores we showed overwhelming school spirit by taking an active part in school activities. With the help of Mr. Stephens, we elected J.V. Cheerleaders and Class Officers and made plans for the highlight of the year, "Hayseed Hoedown," our Class Party.

Our second year at Crawford found us looking forward to our Class Party, "Kiddie Kapers," and our Junior Ball, "Aqua Fantasy," which both proved to be highlights of our Junior Year. Senior Class Elections and Senior Class Rings terminated a memorable year for all Juniors.

Senior Class Party

Turning back the years to the "20's" when colorful fringed dresses, raccoon coats, and pin-striped suits were in style, our class discovered the true mood of that fabulous era.

Old-time movies, a contest for the best costume, and a Charleston contest added finishing touches to this traditional Senior Class Affair.

With many thanks to the hardworking chairmen, Marilyn Soden and Carolyn Reznikoff, our graduating Class of 1965 will long remember November 10, 1964, and "Roaring 20's."

Backstage work begins with learning the script.

Two typical American girls enroute to college, hallmark an intriguing, sophisticated comedy about the phases of a girl's life. Through the first two years of college, the girls are overly-concerned about all facets of human life. Then, passing into the "liberal" period of causes and humanitarianism, they become a part of the intellectual lethargy of beatnikville. Finally, the girls start to think seriously of life and the future. All of these phases provide rich enjoyment — except to their fearful father.

The delightful play about parents versus kids, "Take Her, She's Mine," is an experience in growing up, as much for the parents as for the girls. Filled with sudden poignant moments and loaded with laughs, this witty comedy reminds us all of the good side of life.

Capturing school life in pictures and writing was the goal of our annual staff. We have striven to maintain the high standard and excellence of previous CENTAURS; at the same time we have worked for improvement. Some of the additions and changes are quite obvious; other innovations may be noticed only after the owner examines this yearbook each time he opens the cover.

We, of the annual staff, have experienced more enthusiasm, learning, work, anticipation and pride as a group in producing this yearbook than we had foreseen.

I would like to thank those people who helped us in making this yearbook possible:

To Mr. Jesse Morpew, our advisor, for the untiring help and guidance he has given us. His expert advice and previous experience have made this yearbook possible.

To Mr. Keith Stephens for his opinions, suggestions, and help in choosing the art work for the CENTAUR.

To the Busco-Nester Photography Studio for their promptness, cooperation, and superb photography.

To the Neyenesch Printers, Inc., and especially Mr. Jim Neyenesch for their cooperation in printing our yearbook.

To the S. K. Smith Company for their fine craftsmanship in making our cover.

To Mrs. Irene Johnston, our financial secretary, for assistance with our sales and bookkeeping.

To the entire administration and faculty of Crawford High School for their aid and understanding.

To the 1965 CENTAUR staff, I am especially grateful for the fine extra effort they put forth to produce an outstanding CENTAUR.

If you, the student body of Will C. Crawford High School, are pleased with this record of events and memories, then the staff members may well say that their time and efforts have been justified.
